Gentlemen:

I have the honor of transmitting herewith an offer from Andrew Carnegie to erect a branch library building at the corner of Lang and Hamilton avenues, and transfer the same, together with the land on which it is erected, to the City upon the conditions therein set forth.

A branch library in the locality proposed is very much desired by the citizens of that district and I believe will be a public benefit.

The conditions proposed by Mr. Carnegie are in accordance with the terms upon which the present library system is administered and seem reasonable.

For your convenience I submit a draft of an ordinance prepared by the City Solicitor in accordance with the terms of Mr. Carnegie's proposition.

Truly yours,

GEO. W. GUTHRIE,

New York, November 26, 1907.

Gentlemen:

Upon request of numerous citizens, I offer to provide for the erection of a Branch Library Building in the Homewood district, at the corner of Lang and Hamilton avenues, the sum of $150,000.00 together with land on which the building is to be erected, which I will, by deed, transfer to the city. The conditions upon which this offer is made are those hitherto made for the other libraries I have given Pittsburgh, as follows:

First. That the City of Pittsburgh shall, by ordinance, agree and bind itself to properly maintain the Library from year to year, at its own cost and expense.

Second. MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Armstrong presented

No. 99. Whereas, in the laying out of the late City of Allegheny by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, a street called

"Federal street" was laid out of a width of eighty feet, extending from the northerly line of Carroll street to the southerly line of Hawkins avenue, which has never been opened; and

Whereas, The only means of access to the Perrysville avenue district of the late City of Allegheny from the lower portion of the city is around Perrysville avenue, which is excessively steep and has numerous and dangerous curves, and upon which dangerous accidents have frequently occurred on account of runaway cars, etc.; and

Whereas, It is a matter of great public benefit to have a direct straight street extending from the lower portion of the former City of Allegheny to the hilly districts along Perrysville avenue, and Councils are desirous of having Federal street, from the above named points, opened (if practicable) as originally contemplated when the city was laid out by the Commonwealth; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh, that the Director of the Department of Public Works be and he is hereby instructed to have surveys made of Federal street, between the above named points, and report to Councils on or before April 1 next what would be a reasonable, practicable grade over said street, if opened, and the estimated cost of opening the same to make it available for public use, and the advisability of so doing; and, if this is impracticable, the most available means for procuring a straight direct route from the downtown portions of the former City of Allegheny to the hilly districts along Perrysville avenue, and the approximate cost of securing such a route.

Which was read and adopted.

And Councils being so met in

JOINT SESSION

For the purpose of taking suitable action on the death of John B. Larkin, late City Controller.

The Chair (President Walters) said:

"We meet here in joint session to-night for the purpose of taking suitable action upon the death of the late City Controller, John B. Larkin. I will not attempt to eulogize the memory of Mr. Larkin at this time, as his sterling worth is too well known to all assembled, and I can pay him no higher a tribute than by saying that a prophet is not without honor, save in his own country. Mr. Larkin was the exception."

The Chair called upon Mr. Ferguson, who said:

"Mr. President and Gentlemen—It is with deep sorrow that I rise here to-night to announce the death of John B. Larkin. I knew the gentleman for a great number of years, probably longer than most of you here, and I have been connected with him in a number of ways in relation to city business and otherwise. When a man is dead we realize his real worth, and we now realize what we have lost in the death of John Larkin. All that remains of him is lying out in his home in Fifth avenue to-night. God Almighty, in his goodness and wisdom, saw fit to take our worthy associate and townsman from us. Very few of us knew him as he really was. He was a rough diamond—there was no polish to his makeup—nevertheless the brightness was there, like the sun shining behind a cloud.

His death has affected me as if I had lost a member of my own household. In my judgment it will be a long time before John B. Larkin will be replaced, notwithstanding the fact that there are many able men here to-night. Mr. Larkin had the welfare of the city at heart at all times, and I have no hesitation in saying that the worry he took upon himself in taking care of its welfare had much to do in hastening his death. He put in all of his time in the interests of the city. He went by night and by day to get information in the line of his duty—he has gone to other cities to get this information, and I will say that if you search the records, you will find no item of expense that he charged against the city for any duty that he thought he was called upon to perform for the benefit of the taxpayers. His intentions were always good. It is only after a man like John B. Larkin is gone that we realize his real worth, and to-night in this city, with its sorrows and sighs, his death has fallen upon us like a dream, as we can hardly realize that he has gone from us never more to return.

"I now make a motion that a committee of seven be appointed, four from Common and three from Select Councils, to draw up a resolution suitable for this occasion, on the death of our friend and worthy associate, John B. Larkin."

The motion prevailed.

And Messrs. Ferguson, McElroy, Woods and McMorris were appointed upon behalf of Common Council.

And Messrs. Metcalf, Oliver and Kearns were appointed upon behalf of Select Council.

The Chair instructed the committee to withdraw in order to prepare the resolution.

The committee returned, and

Mr. Ferguson presented

No. 132.

John Bernard Larkin died at his home, 3517 Fifth avenue, on Wednesday morning, January 22d, after a short illness. While Mr. Larkin had been in poor health for the past two years, he had been confined to his home only during the past two weeks.

Mr. Larkin was born on November 25th, 1838, in Gibbon street, in what is now the Sixth ward, and spent most of his life in this city, in which he has been a prominent figure in Democratic politics for many years.

On April 2, 1882, Mr. Larkin was appointed postmaster for this city by President Grover Cleveland, and he proved himself to be a painstaking and efficient official, planning and carrying out many reforms in the mail service.

In 1902 Mr. Larkin was elected City Controller and served in that capacity up until the time of his death, proving himself an efficient and aggressively honest fiscal officer. At the time of his death Mr. Larkin was planning to make a campaign for another term as City Controller.

In the death of Mr. Larkin the City of Pittsburgh has met with a great loss; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the members of Select and Common Councils, in joint sessions assembled, do hereby take this means of expressing their deep sorrow and sincere regret at the death of John Bernard Larkin, late City Controller, and feel that the City of Pittsburgh has lost a loyal, capable and trustworthy official; and, be it further

Resolved, That the sincere sympathy of Councils be extended to the family of the late Controller, John Bernard Larkin, in the hour of their great bereavement, and that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records in full and an engrossed copy thereof be transmitted to his family.

HUGH FERGUSON,
JOHN C. OLIVER,
MICHAEL MCMORRIS,
SAMUEL MCELROY,
CHAS. E. WOODS,
P. B. KEARNS,
WILLIAM METCALF, JR.,
Committee.

Which was read.

Mr. Ferguson moved

The adoption of the resolution.

Which motion prevailed by a unanimous rising vote.

Mr. Soffel arose and said:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of Councils—At this time I rise to speak a word for our late City Controller, John B. Larkin. I will not attempt, upon this occasion, to deliver any eulogy upon his past acts. I believe he is one who is deserving of at least some kind remark for the services that he rendered to the people of the City of Pittsburgh. Mr. Larkin was human, and like every other human being, he had his faults and his good traits, and it is my pleasure, at this time, to say that his good traits far outweighed those of the bad.

"Mr. Larkin was a very determined character, and many times in making decisions, his acts have gained him the enmity of his fellow men, but it has never been done with that intention, but he thought that duty called upon him to render such decisions, irrespective of consequences.

"It was my pleasure to meet with Mr. Larkin on many occasions, having served on the subfinance committee on appropriations in 1902-3, and again in 1907, and I found in Mr. Larkin an able and competent accountant—a man who appeared in every instance to have the business of his office and the city at his finger ends. He worked courageously and zealously in behalf of the people. He always performed all the duties required of him in a way he considered was to the best interests of the city and in keeping with good judgment. It is needless to say that for no act performed in his official capacity can the finger of scorn be pointed at him, nor can any remarks of any character be made against him. His life was such as to put it above question. John Larkin was an honorable man at all times. I could continue along this channel and tell of many things—good things that he has done for the people of this city, but you don't want to hear that now, as you all know it as well as I do. I can say in the loss of Mr. Larkin, our late City Controller, the City of Pittsburgh has indeed sustained a severe loss. I hope that the memory of John B. Larkin will be revered, and I trust that the city will be able to find another Controller such as he was."

Mr. Melaney arose and said:

"In offering my humble tribute to Controller Larkin I cannot forget the many noble deeds he has performed in the last few years, some of which I have come in personal contact with.

"In taking the measure of a man holding a high political position we may sometimes let politics play too important a part in our judgment, but when that man has been removed by death beyond the sphere of politics, and we are permitted to see him as he really was, to judge him by the good or evil he did in this life. It is then only we can get his true measure and judge by this standard of value in compliance with that command issued 1,900 years ago, 'Do unto others as you would that others do unto you,' John B. Larkin can rank as one of the tall men of this community.

"Of humble parentage, with no pull but his own efforts to assist him up the ladder of success, his unquestioned integrity, never ceasing energy and perseverance have compelled the world to recognize his merits and place him above the level of the ordinary man. Optimistic in temperament, ever willing to aid his fellowmen in this uphill struggle for a pleasanter existence, he has left a host of friends who will be sincerely sorry for his going, and when the Angel of Death touched, with his icy finger, that manly form, releasing the intellect which had given him his individuality, there sank beneath the horizon another sun, the last glint of whose rays illuminated for an instant the inky darkness of infinity, just as his genial smile and hearty hardihood dispelled the gloom and forebodings of his many friends. In the death of Controller Larkin Pittsburgh has lost one of the most efficient members of its official family."

Mr. Wasson arose and said:

"Mr. Chairman, I desire to say one or two words on the death of our lamented Controller, John B. Larkin.

"In the death of Mr. Larkin the City of Pittsburgh has lost a public officer whom it will be difficult to replace. John B. Larkin stood in a position before the people of this city that might be envied by any person. He was revered and respected and trusted. One of the uppermost things in this man's character was his sense of duty, and he administered the affairs of the city as he would administer the affairs of his own private business.

"I believe that we might here fittingly include in this memorial these words, 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant.'"

Mr. Metcalf arose and said:

"Mr. President and Gentlemen of Councils—I am wholly unprepared to make any sort of address at this time, but would like to say a few words on the death of John B. Larkin.

"It seems to me in making an estimate of a man at his death it is proper to say in what way he performed his duties while on earth. A man must perform his obligations to God, his country and himself, and it seems further that when a man has performed his whole duty in his efforts to serve his country during his christian life, he has performed his whole duty to God. I do not believe that there is any person present who can say that the late John B. Larkin has not performed to the utmost of his ability his duty to the city. He has performed his whole duty as a Christian gentleman, who has served his God in the greatest way possible for a human being to serve Him, and after a long life of faithful service, John B. Larkin has gone to his just reward. If the rest of us perform our duties to the same degree of faithfulness, we need have no fear of the hereafter."

Mr. McElroy arose and said:

"Mr. President and Members of Councils—I did not have the honor of knowing Mr. Larkin personally. It was only as a public official that I knew of him. I cannot recall that I ever had the pleasure of meeting him. I know Mr. Larkin, therefore, by reputation only, and it is from his public service that I desire to pay tribute to his memory."

"He impressed me as a man of sterling worth; a man of determined will; a man capable of discharging every duty devolving upon him in his official capacity, and a man who had the confidence and respect of the people. He had been elected time and time again to responsible positions, and in every one of them he rendered strict account.

"Death is no respecter of places or persons. The grim reaper gathers his sheaves, and does not exempt the highest or the lowest. We do not know when death will come. It will come our turn after while, and we are admonished by the life of John B. Larkin to be faithful to every duty. When his turn came he was ready to hear, 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant; enter into the joys the Lord, thy God, has prepared for you.'"

Mr. Brand arose and said:

"Mr. Chairman—I rise at this time to make but a few brief remarks on this occasion when we are called together to pay tribute to one who has been a faithful city official and a good servant of the people of the City of Pittsburgh. I can only talk of our late Controller as I found him, and I presume by taking that stand that I can show the true character of the man.

"John B. Larkin was a man of humble parents, and rose to the position that he held in the estimation of the people of his municipality by his own effort. His close connection with the people, and the esteem in which he was held in their hearts, I can only attribute to the fact that he rose from the midst of the middle class of life.

"I have differed with Mr. Larkin on many occasions, but we differed honestly. I found him firm, and when he took a stand he believed that he was right, and he performed his duties for the best interests of the public. He was always ready to give us advice or his views on matters pertaining to the city government. When he made up his mind a thing was right he stood firm until convinced otherwise. He differed with Councils and he also differed with the Chief Executive, and these differences were always honest.

"I wish to say further, in connection with our late Controller, that whatever duty he was called upon to perform he performed it in a way that he thought was for the best interests of the city and in accordance with the laws. In any difference he had with Councils, if you could show him where he was wrong, he was ready to submit.

"In this life we all have our little trials and tribulations, but we are on this earth but a short time and should try to make things as pleasant as possible while we are here, and, if we perform our duties as faithfully and honestly as did John B. Larkin, we need have no fear of the future. Life is exactly as we make it. We all have to travel the same road as we have seen many go before us, and I hope and pray that the members of Councils and the citizens of this city may take a lesson from the life of John B. Larkin.

"In conclusion, I would like to make a motion that in order to show our respect to the late City Controller, we visit his residence in a body after this meeting."

Mr. Soffel moved

To amend, "That a committee of ten (10), six (6) members of Common Council and four (4) members of Select Council be appointed to represent Councils at the funeral."

Mr. Metcalf moved

To amend the amendment, "And that all members of Councils who can do so attend the services."

The amendment was accepted by Mr. Soffel.
And the question being taken on the amendment as offered by Mr. Soffel,
The amendment prevailed.

The Chair (President Walters) appointed Messrs. Soffel, Ferguson, Forrest, Hooper, McGrath and McMorris on behalf of Common Council, and Messrs. Kearns, Hawkins, Frederick and Stewart on behalf of Select Council.

Mr. Stewart moved
That the joint session do now arise.

Which motion prevailed.

And Select Council returned to its own Chamber.

Mr. Stewart moved

That the action of the joint session be ratified and confirmed.

Which motion prevailed.

And on motion of Mr Frederick,

Council adjourned.

Pittsburg, Pa., January 26, 1908.

To the President and Members of Select Council, Pittsburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen—At a special meeting of Pavers and Rammers Assembly No. 6266, Knights of Labor, held January 23rd, 1908, it was unanimously decided to petition your honorable body relative to getting an early start on the work of improving and repairing of the streets of Greater Pittsburg.

In past years it has been the custom of starting this work late in the season, thereby limiting the work to about one-half of what could be done if it was started in proper time. An early start also means employment to the members of this Assembly, as well as other mechanics and unskilled labor, a large number of whom are and have been out of employment for some time.

We understand there is to be a large sum of money expended this year for the improvement and repaving of our streets. An early start would also be a great benefit to the city, as there would be ample time to complete this work before the bad weather would set in.

We do not desire to criticize any of the city officials, but beg to say that to our knowledge the streets of our city are not in the condition that they should be, and we believe the cause of this is due to insufficient funds in the hands of the Bureau of Highways and Sewers.

Trusting you will give this your careful and favorable consideration, we are, Respectfully,

JAS. MALARKEY,
Master Workman.

HERBERT FINCH,
Recording Secretary.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,

Coraopolis, Pa., Jan. 24, 1908.

Whereas, What is known as the River Road, formerly in the Borough of Esplen, now the 40th Ward of the City of Pittsburg, leading from Steuben street to Chartiers creek, in the said City of Pittsburg, is now and has been for many years in a condition rendering it dangerous and inconvenient to travel by the public thereon; and,

Whereas, The said River Road is the only outlet for Esplen, McKees Rocks, Stowe Township, Robinson Township, Neville Township and the Borough of Coraopolis, and much the most convenient outlet for all of the southwesterly part of Allegheny County, and has over it as great an amount of travel as any other portion of any street an equal distance from the center of the city, being traversed as it is by market wagons from Neville Township and the country districts around McKees Rocks and Coraopolis Borough, and also by the tracks of the Pittsburg Railways Company carrying passengers and cars to Elliott, Sheridan, McKees Rocks and Coraopolis; and,

Whereas, Repeated requests for the improvement of said road have been neglected or ignored until the same has become a public nuisance and a menace to human life; therefore he it

Resolved, By the Chamber of Commerce of the Borough of Coraopolis, in regular session now assembled, that this body join in the prayer of a petition to the Mayor and Councils of the City of Pittsburg that the improvement of said River Road from Steuben street to the McKees Rocks Borough line be taken up and completed at the earliest possible date.

Resolved further, That a copy of this preamble and resolution be spread upon the minutes of this body, that the same be certified to the Mayor and Councils of the City of Pittsburg by the President and Secretary of this body.

We, the undersigned President and Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of the Borough of Coraopolis hereby certify that at a regular meeting thereof, held Friday, January 24, 1908, the foregoing preamble and resolution was duly and regularly adopted, and that the same remains recorded upon the minutes of this body.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
PITTSBURGH, PA., Jan. 27, 1908. }

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

Gentlemen—I have the honor to transmit herewith opinion of William B. Rodgers, Esq., City Solicitor, in regard to power of Councils to elect a City Controller to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Honorable John B. Larkin. I am,

Very respectfully yours,

GEO. W. GUTHRIE,

Mayor.

DEPARTMENT OF LAW,
PITTSBURGH, January 23, 1908. }

Hon. George W. Guthrie, Mayor:

Dear Sir—You have asked me to give you an opinion as to what should be done in view of the death of John B. Larkin, City Controller.

The Act of 16th May, 1857 (P. L. 541), which is an act "Supplementary to an Act to incorporate the City of Pittsburgh," provides for the election by the people of a City Controller, as well as other officers. Section Six of that Act provides:

"Whenever an elective officer shall die, resign, remove from said City, or otherwise become incapable of fulfilling the duties of his office, the City Councils in joint session shall elect a successor, except in the case of the Mayor."

Further, the Act of 6th April, 1857 (P. L. 846), which is "A further Supplement to the Acts Incorporating the City of Pittsburgh, extending its boundaries, etc.," provides, in the 26th Section, as follows:

"And in case any office of an elective officer shall become vacant before the expiration of the regular term thereof, the vacancy shall be filled by the City Councils until a successor is elected and qualified, and such successor shall be elected for the unexpired term at the first annual city election which occurs after the vacancy shall have happened."

I do not find any subsequent legislation inconsistent with the sections above quoted.

Therefore, the present vacancy, in my judgment, should be filled as provided in the sections above quoted.

Respectfully submitted,

W. B. RODGERS,

City Solicitor.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh.
Gentlemen:

I have the honor to transmit herewith the report of Mr. Rudolph Hering, in regard to disposal of rubbish and ashes in the City of Pittsburgh, made in response to an ordinance approved November 19th, 1907.

I am respectfully yours,

GEO. W. GUTHRIE,

Mayor.

Report to the HON. GEO. W. GUTHRIE, MAYOR and Members of the

SELECT AND COMMON COUNCILS on the

DISPOSAL OF RUBBISH AND ASHES
in the

CITY OF PITTSBURGH.

By Rudolph Hering, C. E., D. Sc.
January 18, 1908.

Pittsburg, January 18, 1908.

To the Hon. Geo. W. Guthrie, Mayor, and Members of the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh, Penna.

Gentlemen:

On Nov. 19, 1907, an ordinance was passed by your honorable bodies authorizing the Director of the Department of Public Safety to appoint and employ a consulting engineer to be attached to the Bureau of Health for the purpose of investigating and reporting upon the collection and disposal of ashes, street sweepings, rubbish and night soil in this City and for the preparation of general plans and specifications for the disposal of the wastes mentioned.

The late Director of the Department of Public Safety having appointed me to make this investigation, I at once proceeded with the work and herewith respectfully transmit my report.

To reach proper conclusions as to the collection and disposal of the wastes mentioned it was necessary to gather a large amount of local information, both as to the present methods and as to others which might be recommended. To aid me in gathering this information I employed Mr. C. F. Drake, as Assistant Engineer, who very efficiently performed his duties.

Three visits were made by me to Pittsburgh, during which the territory and collected data were carefully examined. Consultations were had with Dr. J. F. Edwards, Supt. of the Bureau of Health, and Mr. A. R. Shepherd, Acting Director of the Dept. of Public Works, regarding local data.

In now presenting my conclusions and recommendations I believe that they fully cover the intentions of the ordinance.

DATA.

The City of Pittsburgh as recently consolidated, lies at the junction of the Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers where they form the Ohio River. North of the Allegheny and Ohio Rivers lies the former City of Allegheny, now called the North Side; between the Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers is the City of Pittsburgh proper and south of the Monongahela River is the South Side. Near the river the territory is generally low, some of which is flooded during high water. A large part of the city is built up upon the flat and low territories. The city contains a number of hills which are as yet sparsely inhabited. Between the hills are broad valleys which are rapidly building up to form parts of the Greater City.

The population of Greater Pittsburgh, according to the estimates of the Bureau of Health, including West Liberty, is 576,426, of which former Allegheny has 154,314.

The areas of the various parts of Pittsburgh are as follows:

Old Pittsburgh	13,521.3 acres
North Side	 4,378.0 acres
South Side	 5,924.9 acres

Total23,824.2 acres

This includes 44 wards of Pittsburgh and the South Side, as well as 15 wards of the North Side.

ASHES AND RUBBISH.

Old Pittsburgh.

The City of Pittsburgh makes no provision at the present time for the municipal collection of ashes and rubbish.

Private scavengers are hired by householders to remove this material to private dumping grounds and pay them for this work.

It is necessary to obtain a permit from the Bureau of Health to maintain such a dumping ground. There is a watchman stationed at every dump by the Bureau of Health and under the inspection of a sanitary policeman. It is the duty of this officer to prevent the deposit of garbage and to see that the dump is kept in a sanitary condition.

The topography of the city is such that all extensive level lands has become too valuable for dumping purposes. The refuse dumps are therefore located on the sides or tops of hills. This makes them generally inaccessible for heavy loads and uneconomical on account of the up-hill haul for all of the refuse. The loads average about 1,600 pounds.

It is customary to collect ashes and rubbish together at the same time and in the same cart. This has been done for many years and the two materials are delivered together at the dump. Much of the rubbish in the city is burned in the back yards in wire crates.

As natural gas is much used for fuel and a large proportion of the residents use it in this way instead of coal, there is a smaller quantity of ashes per capita than in other cities where gas is not so used. In summer the quantity of ashes is quite small.

Apartment houses, office buildings and hotels generally use bituminous coal for fuel as do also the poorer residents of the City, because their houses are often not piped for gas. Anthracite coal is used for domestic heating only in very small quantities.

The refuse dumps in Old Pittsburgh are as follows:

Park avenue, near Shetland avenue, Nineteenth Ward.

Soho street, near Reed, Thirteenth ward.

Heath and Avondale streets, Eighteenth ward.

Liberty avenue and Main street, Sixteenth ward.

Murtland avenue, near Hermitage street, Twenty-first ward.

Coltart Square and Louisa street, Fourteenth ward.

Park Avenue Dump. This dump is at the eastern end of Park avenue. It was originally intended to be used only for earth removed in grading streets, but has lately been used also for the disposal of ashes.

A charge of 25 cents per load is made for the privilege of dumping.

There are about 20 tons of ashes and rubbish delivered to this dump daily, except in the summer and fall, when the amount is smaller. Of the 20 tons about 18 are ashes. The reason for this large proportion may be that the foreman at the dump is particularly insistent that only clean ashes free from rubbish shall be delivered there.

Soho Dump. This is the largest dump in Pittsburgh. It is located on Soho street, near Reed street, and about one and one-quarter miles northeast of the Court House. From its proximity to the business section of the City it therefore receives a very large portion of ashes and rubbish. A large quantity of paper and excelsior from the stores is noticeable on this dump.

During December there were 175 loads per day delivered and the material consisted of about one-fourth rubbish and three-fourths ashes, estimated by bulk.

It was not practicable to weigh this material. As there were about 16 barrels to the load, the load held about 43 cubic feet. As in other sections of the city this material was found to weigh about 990 pounds per cubic yard, the weight per load was approximately 1,580 pounds and the daily amount delivered was about 140 tons. It was said that during December the amount was not as high as is received during some other months.

A large amount of rubbish is removed by picking. Old rags, bottles and old paper are thus removed. This picking reduces the amount of rubbish very materially.

There is a crude furnace at this dump for the incineration of the rubbish. An appended photograph shows the furnace and a portion of the dump. It has a brick body and a steel stack. Although originally provided with grate bars it is now operated without them and the rubbish is merely thrown into the bottom of the furnace and burn from early morning until night. It is a very imperfect contrivance.

It is said that wrapping paper brought to this dump is sold for over $30.00 per ton. A junk dealer pays for the privilege of picking. He has men constantly employed for this purpose.

The residents in this vicinity belong to the lower class, and complaints, although frequent, are not persistent.

Some steam ashes from office buildings are delivered at this dump.

Careful questioning disclosed the fact that every load of material dumped at Soho cost the residents between $2.75 and $3.00. On the basis of 175 loads per day the cost would be between $480.00 and $525.00 per day for the collection and disposal of ashes and rubbish in this district. Assuming the cost at $500.00 per day for 175 loads and assuming further the delivery to be made for 300 days in the year, we would get a cost of $150,000.00 per annum. As the amount delivered at Soho is roughly speaking, about one-half of the amount collected in Old Pittsburgh, it is fair to assume that the householders pay for the collection and disposal of rubbish and ashes in Old Pittsburgh about $300,000.00 per annum.

Heath and Avondale Dump. This dump is a small one and lies along the old bed of Hights Run. It is in the vicinity of a good neighborhood and where natural gas is largely used as a fuel. About 8 tons of ashes and 2 tons of rubbish reach this dump daily during the month of December. It is stated that no ashes go to this dump during the summer.

Liberty Avenue, near Main Street, Dump. An appended photograph shows this dump which is second only to Soho in size and has been used for about 25 years. It is located at a point which requires an up-hill haul from all directions. It receives material from the down town section north of Grant Boulevard and also from Bloomfield, Lawrenceville, Bellefield, Garfield and Shadyside. All territory lying between Grant Boulevard and the Allegheny River as far east as Negley avenue contributes to this dump.

A count made during December shows that there were 80 loads delivered per day. An appended photograph shows a typical load delivered at this dump, which is one of the few dumps that will not soon be filled up.

The attendant stated that the prices paid for picking at this dump were: For newspapers, $16.00 per ton; for the poorer grade of brown paper, $12.00 per ton, and the better class of paper, over $30.00 per ton. Old tin cans were worth $5.00 per ton and old bricks $3.00 per thousand as they lie on the dump. Approximately 4,000 bottles per week were delivered at the dump. They are sold at prices varying from $4.50 to $7.50 per gross.

A charge of 25 cents per load was made for dumping steam ashes, and customers were found to carry them away from the dump to make granolithic walks and paid for them 25 cents per load.

The drivers are compelled to place all combustible material in a pile and burn it. An extra charge is made to cover the risk of setting fire to abutting property.

The dumping of ashes is confined to the period from December 1 to June 30, and during this period about 64 tons of ashes and rubbish are dumped per day, of which amount about 60 tons are ashes.

Murkland Avenue Dump. This dump is located west of Murkland avenue, near Hermitage street, and receives a large amount of paper and a small amount of ashes. The appended photograph shows this dump and a furnace for the incineration of such rubbish that is left after being carefully picked over.

A record of deliveries during December showed an average of 15 loads per day which loads were approximately of the size as elsewhere. Presumably they also weighed 1,600 pounds, which indicates that about 12 tons were delivered daily, of which 8 tons were ashes and 4 tons rubbish.

There is still ample room at this dump for future use.

Coltart Square Dump. This dump was originally used for rubbish and ashes, but has been discontinued since December.

Besides the above mentioned dumps the Bureau of Highways and Sewers has a large dump on Halket street, called Wilmot Street Dump, where only street sweepings are delivered. It receives street sweepings from nearly all the down town section near Halket street and practically all of the street sweepings from the South Side. A depression of from 50 to 60 feet deep is being filled up. It is the largest dump for street sweepings in the city. North Side.

The former City of Allegheny has no municipal bureau to collect ashes and rubbish. The collection is private under the supervision of the Bureau of Health.

Many of the houses use natural gas exclusively as fuel. Ashes are therefore not abundant. Rubbish on the other hand is abundant and rich in combustible material; it is particularly so in summer. It is customary to burn waste paper and other combustible material on the premises. This is done in small wire cages which are placed in the back yards. Old newspapers sell for about $16.00 per ton.

The collections are made by private parties who charge for the removal about $1.80 per load of mixed rubbish and ashes, or about $2.60 per ton. An appended photograph serves as a typical sample of a collector and his wagon. Double teams are scarce, because according to some of the drivers, they could not afford to keep two horses.

As will be mentioned below under the heading of Street Sweeping, private waste paper boxes are placed on the street corners and in parks to avoid the littering of streets with such rubbish. As such litter would otherwise and actually does in Old Pittsburgh form a part of the street sweepings, it will be included under that heading.

Marshall Avenue Dump. The materials removed are taken to private dumping grounds, the largest of which is at the corner of Marshall avenue and Brighton road, near the top of a high hill, making an up-hill haul from every direction. A photograph gives a general idea of the location.

A count taken during December showed an average of 95 loads of mixed ashes and rubbish dumped daily. They average about 400 pounds each or about 200 pounds less than in Old Pittsburgh, and the tonnage per day was about 67 tons.

On account of the mixture of ashes and rubbish it was difficult to give an accurate proportion of either ingredient. The quantity of ashes during December may average about 60 tons and the rubbish 7 tons.

It is stated that practically no ashes are delivered in summer and also that much rubbish is burned on private premises.

Spring Garden Dump. Another dump for the North Side refuse is in the Spring Garden Borough on Spring Garden avenue. It is a comparatively level street lying in a valley. Its use entails a haul of approximately 2.5 miles from East Ohio and Chestnut streets. About 38 loads a day were dumped during December. The loads were approximately the same as those at Marshall avenue.

About 23 tons of ashes and 4 tons of rubbish were dumped daily.

East Street Dumps. There are also a few scattered dumps on East street, near the boundary line of Reserve Township. It was practicable to obtain only a rough estimate of the quantities here dumped, according to which it is believed that 12 tons of ashes and 3 tons of rubbish were dumped during December.

Scattered Dumps. There are many other scattered small dumps where it is estimated that about 11 tons of ashes and no rubbish were dumped.

It is customary to collect ashes and rubbish only during about 175 days per year, as during the remainder of the year the men usually deliver ice. Accordingly we find the total amount of ashes and rubbish per annum to be 21,000 tons. Assuming the population of Allegheny as 150,000, this would give 0.14 ton per capita per annum.

As the annual collection is about 21,000 tons and as they pay about $1.80 per load of 1,400 pounds, the residents of the North Side pay annually about $54,000.00 for the collection and disposal of ashes and rubbish.

Greater Pittsburgh.

A resume of the daily deposit of ashes and rubbish in the entire city, as it was practicable to ascertain by careful estimate during the month of December, is as follows:

Old Pittsburgh.	Ashes.	Rubbish.
Park Avenue	18 tons	2 tons
Soho	120 tons	20 tons
Heath	8 tons	2 tons
Liberty and Main.	60 tons	4 tons
Murkland	8 tons	4 tons
	214 tons	32 tons
North Side.
Marshall Avenue..	60 tons	7 tons
Spring Garden....	23 tons	4 tons
East Street	12 tons	3 tons
Scattered	11 tons	..
	106 tons	14 tons
Total in Greater Pittsburgh	320 tons	46 tons

The comparatively small quantity of rubbish may be accounted for as follows:

First. Whatever material had any value before reaching the dumps was generally removed by junk men.

Second. It is a common custom to burn paper and small combustible articles in wire cages in back yards.

Third. The greater portion of tin cans is removed with the garbage, as permitted by ordinance.

Fourth. The collection of data for this report was made during the season when least attention is paid to cleaning up back yards and cellars.

It is undoubtedly to be expected that the amount of rubbish, which requires a better disposal, would be materially greater than the above amount.

Analyses were made of several samples of ashes and rubbish, and the results are given below:

- (1) Ashes at Soho Dump Dec. 14, 1907:

	Per cent.
Moisture	8.1
Dry material	91.9

- (5) Rubbish from Soho Dump, Dec. 27, 1907:

	Per cent.
Ash	9.5
Combustible matter	90.5

Calorific value, 7,291 B. T. U.

As a summary of the above we may give the following table:

Weight and Volume of the Annual Amount of Refuse from Greater Pittsburgh.
	Tons.	Cu. Yds.
Street sweepings	92,100	109,643
Garbage	82,549	150,089
Ashes	56,000	112,000
Rubbish	13,800	184,000
Total	244,449	555,732

As the amount of total refuse created by the Greater City was estimated for the last year to be 555,732 cubic yards, we may obtain a picture thereof by realizing that this quantity would fill an acre of ground to a depth of 345 feet.

STREET SWEEPINGS.

Old Pittsburgh.

The street sweeping of old Pittsburgh is done under the supervision of the Bureau of Highways and Sewers. Mr. J. F. O'Toole is the Superintendent of the Bureau. The collections are made by double team wagons, of which a photograph is appended. Each wagon is accompanied by a driver and laborer.

The city, excluding the North Side, is divided into six districts with 94 wagons, 5 carts and 4 buggies. Each district has a gang of men with revolving horse sweepers. There are also engaged over 100 laborers with two wheeled push carts, illustrated in an appended photograph. The number of men engaged varies with the season, the condition of the streets and the available funds. Each sweeper is provided with a broom and shovel. The two-wheeled push cart carries an iron barrel, which may be lifted from it and, when full, is placed in the alleys for collection by the wagon.

The barrels provided for this purpose are stored in the alleys at designated points. Whenever there is a lack of barrels the attendants dump the contents upon the pavement. Such piles of sweepings are frequently seen in the alleys, so that there is either a lack of barrels furnished by the Department or there may be an insufficient number of wagons to collect the material. It is of course undesirable to have such piles remain long upon the pavement, because the material may readily be spread out again by travel or by winds. An appended photograph shows such a pile.

The contents of the barrels are thrown into large wagons in which they are hauled to the nearest dump. A photograph shows a rear view, and the character and size of the load, which in this case is mostly manure and earth, but contains also some street litter or rubbish just as is found in other cities.

Mr. O'Toole, the Superintendent of the Bureau of Highways and Sewers, stated that last year 35,400 wagon loads of street sweepings had been collected. This amount is equivalent to 90,900 cu. yds. or 76,200 tons. From these figures it is computed that a wagon load contains about 2.56 cu. yds., or 2.15 tons. Hence one cu. yd. of street sweepings weighs 0.84 tons.

An analysis was made of a sample of street sweepings taken December 14th, 1907, from Centre avenue and Chauncey street. The results were as follows:

	Per cent.
Moisture	30.9
Dry material	69.1
	100

The dry material contained:

	Per Cent.
Volatile matter	24.0
Fixed carbon	5.9

The calorific value of this sample in the natural condition was 2304 British Thermal Units.

The better kind of street sweepings of old Pittsburgh was formerly delivered to the parks to be used as manure. At the present time these sweepings are hauled to a number of dumping places, to vacant lots or where streets are being graded. Sometimes street embankments are made entirely of sweepings and cleanings from catch basins, and new streets have been and still are being graded by this means. This is done because there are but few available places where the material can be finally dumped.

There are several vacant lots now being used for this purpose, namely:

Second avenue, near Marion.

Chauncey, near Second avenue.

Park Avenue, near the Boulevard.

Coltart Square and Halket street.

It is reported by Mr. O'Toole that the cost of hauling the street sweepings is 80 cents per wagon load, which is equivalent to 31.2 cents per cubic yard, or 37.2 cents per ton. No cost figures were obtainable for any other parts of the service.

North Side.

The work of street cleaning on the North Side has been done by the Bureau of Highways and Sewers, of which Mr. T. L. Pillow is chief.

The territory is divided into two districts, east and west of Federal street. The Bureau employs 20 two-horse teams and 115 push carts in its work; a photograph of the latter is attached. The push carts are rectangular boxes mounted on two wheels. The attendant has a short broom and a short shovel. When full the box is dumped upon the pavement at an alley corner where the wagon collects it. The cart has a sliding end which is lifted when the charge is dumped. Of the wagons, 4 are used exclusively for hauling steam ashes to unimproved streets. They are of the same general type as those in old Pittsburgh.

Revolving sweepers are occasionally used, drawn by a pair of horses, but the cleaning is chiefly done by men with push carts.

Mr. Pillow states that 40 loads of street sweepings per day are removed from the district west of Federal street and that 8 loads per day are hauled from the district east of Federal street. Each load averages 2,200 pounds, which means a daily total collection of 53 tons.

Paper and rubbish are picked out from the sweepings.

Last spring a company was granted the privilege of placing waste paper boxes on the street corners and in the parks on the North Side. These boxes, a photograph of a typical sample is attached, are of metal and have advertisements painted upon them. They have an opening near the top for receiving the rubbish. Special scavengers are employed to collect the contents of these boxes, but the collections have been infrequent and irregular. The result is therefore not fully satisfactory.

It is difficult to get the quantity of street sweepings as no records have been kept. A rough estimate gives 53 tons per day and assuming 300 collection days in a year, we would get about 15,900 tons per annum.

The sweepings from the western district are disposed of directly in the parks, but the greater part of those from the eastern district is first hauled to River avenue and Sycamore street, where the papers are picked out. The portion of the sweepings containing sufficient quantities of manure are used as fertilizer in the parks and this use still appears to be satisfactory, notwithstanding that the haul is long, allowing only three loads per day for each wagon.

For the year 1907 the appropriation for this purpose was $118,000.00, which included, besides all actual work of street cleaning, also office and stable expenses. The appropriation was inadequate and an additional appropriation of $23,000.00 was made, bringing the total to $141,000.00 for the year 1907. The annual expense per capita for the street cleaning is therefore nearly $1.00.

The drivers of wagons are paid $2.25 per day and the laborers $2.00 per day.

The streets of the North Side are in general kept very clean. Greater Pittsburgh.

From the above figures we can conclude that the total amount of street sweepings collected and disposed of annually in the greater city is about 92,100 tons, or 109,800 cubic yards. The appropriation requested for the present fiscal year for cleaning the streets and sewer inlets is about $

Night Soil.

Although the system of sewerage has been pretty well extended over the built up territory there have yet remained many cess pools. But they are gradually being abolished as it becomes practicable to connect the houses with the sewers.

An examination of the permits issued in old Pittsburgh indicates that the cess pools are distributed fairly even over the different wards. From December 1st, 1906, to December 1st, 1907, 1469 permits for cleaning had been granted and in former Allegheny, during the year 1907, 321 permits.

During the ten months ending December 5th, 1907, the use of 5,495 privies had been discontinued in old Pittsburgh by order of the Bureau of Health. It is estimated that 9,000 privies still remain there.

The material is collected in tank wagons by licensed collectors and is hauled away at night.

No official record is kept as to the quantity of night soil collected nor as to the disposal of the entire amount. One permit usually covers the emptying of a vault containing anywhere from one to five barrels of night soil.

The final disposition of the night soil is now either on farms, in sewers or in the rivers. It is permitted by the Bureau of Health to dump some of the night soil into a large 9-foot sewer on Beechwood Boulevard discharging into the Allegheny river below Brilliant. It is stated that a large amount of night soil is dumped into the Allegheny river from the tank wagons under the Sixth Street bridge.

Collection of Rubbish and Ashes.

The present investigation did not include a plan for a complete installation of a municipal plant for the collection of refuse, with stables, horses, wagons, etc. It is enough for the present purpose to indicate the probable cost of municipal collection.

The average haul from the buildings to the places of disposal would be approximately 1½ miles and the haul would be down hill.

In the foregoing it was found that the cost of collecting rubbish and ashes in old Pittsburgh by private parties is about $3.00 per ton and the cost on the North Side for the same service, where the collections was by the municipality, was about $2.60 per ton.

Further, it was found that the cost of this service in Pittsburgh could be estimated approximately to be at least $300,000.00 per annum and on the North Side $54,000.00 per annum. In other words, the cost of collecting rubbish and ashes in Greater Pittsburgh has been about $354,000.00 per annum or over 61 cents per inhabitant.

A fair estimate of the cost for the collection of rubbish and ashes under similar conditions of length of down hill haul in this country, as gained in different cities, would be $2.25 per ton of rubbish and $2.00 per ton of ashes.

Assuming now that the daily tonnage in Greater Pittsburgh had increased within the next few years to 60 tons of rubbish and 400 tons of ashes, the annual cost for 300 days would be:

Rubbish	$ 40,000.00
Ashes	240,000.00
Total	$280,000.00

or about 48 cents per inhabitant.

As the cost to the inhabitant by the present method of collection is over 61 cents per inhabitant, there can be little doubt but that a municipal collection would be more economical.

When we further consider that the control of the service can be much better exercised by public officials appointed to guard the citizens' health and comfort, assuring a more regular, cleaner and more efficient collection, than can be secured from those who have only a financial interest in the work, there can be still less doubt of the advantages of a municipal control of the collection of both rubbish and ashes.

METHODS OF DISPOSAL

RECOMMENDED.

ASHES AND RUBBISH.

At the present time ashes and rubbish are collected together. If garbage were also collected with these materials for the purpose of being incinerated, the combination of ashes and rubbish would be helpful in adding fuel. As, however, the garbage in the City of Pittsburgh is collected separately, for the purpose of reduction to grease and fertilizer, there is no advantage in collecting a mixture of ashes and rubbish for burning. On the contrary, there is a disadvantage, because together with rubbish there is but little relative value to be gained from the percentage of coal left in the ashes in an unburned state.

Ashes alone are sanitary and provided there is no dust nuisance created, there is no objection to dumping them in the city for road making, embankments or otherwise. There should, therefore, be no objection to dumping ashes at suitable places in the city for useful purposes.

Should such useful purposes allow only of a limited utilization of the ashes within the city, then the surplus must be removed by water down the Ohio river to a nearest available dump, or by rail or trolley to inland valleys and available places for dumping.

The most dangerous part of city refuse from a sanitary point of view, is the rubbish, because it is likely to contain discarded matter from sick rooms and hospitals and therefore contain germs of disease.

There is no more sanitary method for disposing of rubbish than by burning it, and this method is being adopted wherever practicable. The ashes resulting from the burning can be disposed of as can other ashes from the city.

The destruction of rubbish by fire if properly conducted does not cause a nuisance from offensive odors, and furnaces can therefore be safely built at suitable points within your city, so that rubbish can be delivered by short hauls and particularly by down hill instead of up hill hauls as at present.

Other than by burning, there is no way of disposing of rubbish except by dumping. This practice cannot long be continued, as the available dumping places are becoming scarce. Filling with rubbish is not desirable, as a fill, by decomposition of the material, shrinks and settles, and prevents an economic use of the site for building purposes. Filling is, therefore, being abandoned in favor of incineration.

Modern furnaces for the destruction of city refuse are found capable of being operated under high temperatures producing heat which is not only most effective in destroying a nuisance but also is available for utilization, and therefore can bring a return for the expense of the incineration.

From what has been said it is therefore recommended:

(1) To separate ashes from rubbish and establish a separate collection.

(2) To deliver clean ashes to all available dumps within the city and for street grading and other useful purposes.

(3) To erect incinerators at as many points as practicable within the city to receive and burn the rubbish at high temperature with a utilization of the heat.

As the incineration of rubbish is a process which does not require the services of medical men, further than to give assurance that dangerous material is actually cast into the fire, it is customary to have such furnaces operated by the Public Works Departments.

STREET SWEEPINGS.

Regarding the disposal of street sweepings the best method of disposal cannot be indicated without a complete knowledge of the combustibility and manurial value of such sweepings as they are collected on different streets. Where the amount of combustible material from certain streets is sufficient to warrant a burning, then it would be proper to add the sweepings to the rubbish and burn both in the proposed incinerators. Where the amount of combustible matter does not warrant burning then no better disposal can be recommended than to deliver the sweepings together with the ashes at any remaining dump within the city, or to carry them out of the city for disposal as filling.

NIGHT SOIL.

The night soil collected from houses, where no sewers are available is but the same matter that would enter sewers, were a connection with them feasible.

It is therefore entirely proper to dispose of this material in a sewer, if this is done in such a way that it will not temporarily obstruct the flow therein or create an offensive smell.

This method of disposal is not only practiced elsewhere, but it has been sanctioned by your Board of Health, as it is permitted at the Beechwood Boulevard, where a large sewer exists and discharges into the Allegheny River below the Brilliant Pumping Station.

In Panther Hollow is a large sewer 9 feet in diameter, discharging into the Monongahela River at Bates street. Into this sewer also it may be practicable to discharge night soil.

The sewage in Pittsburgh is very dilute owing to the large consumption of water per capita. The addition of the night soil so long as it must still be collected, would not cause the sewage in the sewers to be more concentrated or offensive than the sewage of eastern cities and particularly the sewage of European cities where the water consumption per capita and therefore the dilution of the sewage is much less.

I am informed that a large proportion of the night soil is dumped at night into the Allegheny river under the center of the Sixth Street bridge. While this disposition may seem improper and perhaps objectionable, the objection can be sustained only so far as the method or time of dumping is concerned. The discharge of the night soil under the bridge into the river would create no different conditions in the same than its entrance through a sewer. So long as the practice of discharging crude sewage into the river through sewers is continued, the only precaution necessary is that the operation of discharging be so conducted that no offense is temporarily caused. When there is in operation a different system of sewage disposal, from what exists at the present time, this disposition of the night soil would naturally cease.

LOCATION OF INCINERATORS.

The accompanying map has indicated upon it, among other things, all of the present dumps of rubbish and ashes, and at three points the location of sites which are suitable for incinerators and which are recommended to you for this purpose.

Incinerator No. 1 is suggested to be placed upon the land now owned by the city on the North Side, between River avenue and the West Penn Railroad at Lumbermans alley. At present there is located upon the property the pumping station supplying the North Side with water, and also a fire engine house.

This pumping station will eventually be abandoned.

There is room between the present buildings and the railroad to place an incinerating plant. The rubbish can be delivered to the second floor over a bridge crossing the West Penn Railroad from East Ohio street.

This location is quite central to a large population. About 79.5 per cent. of the entire population of Greater Pittsburgh resides within a three mile radius, 49.4 per cent. within a two mile radius, and 17 per cent. within a one mile radius. The rubbish would be delivered practically down hill from the entire area and the ashes could be readily loaded upon boats, trains or trolleys to be economically transported to any available point.

The steam generated at this incinerator could be utilized not only to operate the works but the excess could be converted into electricity and transmitted to such points where a revenue is obtainable therefrom.

It may be stated here that the most favorable use which can be made of electricity generated at incinerators, if these are operated continuously for 24 hours a day is for the pumping of water and sewage, as such pumping is generally also done throughout the 24 hours. If the incinerator is run only for a part of the day, it is practicable nevertheless to utilize the electricity therefrom during the time of its running, and thus save a corresponding amount of steam at a pumping station. It has also been found practicable to deliver electricity to private manufacturing establishments, if the time when the power is needed corresponds to the time when it can be generated. It has also been found feasible to supplement the supply of electricity for trolley lines.

The location of incinerator No. 1 lends itself to one or more of those applications.

Incinerator No. 2 is recommended to be placed in Panther Hollow, west of Schenley Park, and south of Wilmut avenue.

This location has the advantage of a central position between East Liberty and the eastern part of the South Side. It is at a low elevation and therefore can receive most of the refuse with a down hill haul. Being situated on a side hill, all the material will pass through the works by gravity. There is ample room for expanding and for disposal of the ashes by dumping near the site, unless a more valuable use can be made of them elsewhere. It is practicable to utilize the steam for the manufacture of electricity, which can be sold for one or more of the purposes above mentioned. In this particular instance it has been suggested that a trolley line be operated through the park and for which purpose and for lighting the park at night the generated electricity could be utilized so far as its development would permit.

The city does not own any land at this proposed site, but there seems to be no reason why an ample tract could not be readily purchased at a reasonable figure, providing not only for the present, but for future city purposes.

Incinerator No. 3 is recommended to be placed in the valley of Nine Mile Run not far from where it is crossed by Forward avenue. This location is central to a large territory which is now developing to the north and east, but much of which is not yet within the city limits.

The location permits of a down hill collection from most of the district. It permits the resulting ashes to be used for filling near the plant. It can be situated upon a side hill so that all material will pass through by gravity. No land is owned as yet by the city but a suitable tract could no doubt be purchased at reasonable rates.

Opportunities would offer by which it would become practicable to utilize whatever electricity might be generated by the incineration at this plant.

Plans are attached to this report indicating the general layout of Incinerators Nos. 1 and 2. As the third incinerator would not be built for some time, no studies were made for it.

The appended map shows a line which could be taken to divide the territory between incinerators Nos. 1 and 2 in such a manner that the collection of the rubbish would in both cases be down hill. No dividing line is shown between the territory that would in the future be tributary to incinerators Nos. 2 and 3.

INCINERATOR NO. 1.

The location of this incinerator has already been described.

The appended plan shows the arrangement of the buildings, furnaces, and other parts of the plant. It is intended to construct a bridge from East Ohio street across the West Penn Railroad and terminate in the receiving building, which is to be erected at the eastern end of the site.

In the receiving building there is a large landing platform upon which the rubbish is dumped when delivered and where a half day's delivery can be stored. At each end of the receiving building is a hopper into which the rubbish is thrown by the attendants, and from the hoppers the material descends upon a belt conveyor which moves from the receiving building to the furnaces.

It is assumed that the rubbish is delivered during 8 hours and the furnaces are operated for 16 hours.

As the rubbish burns quickly and readily it is necessary to feed the furnaces almost continuously. Therefore, a feeding by a belt conveyor has been found most suitable.

If the valuable portions of the rubbish are picked out so as to obtain a revenue, the pickers can be stationed along the moving belt and remove what is saleable and place it into hoppers conveniently located on a lower floor from where it is finally assorted for removal. The paper is pressed into bales for shipment.

Such plants for rubbish picking are operated in New York, Boston and Buffalo, and if precautions are taken against infected rubbish, no objectionable results are recorded.

After the conveyor enters the incinerator building the material which has not been picked out drops into the furnaces and is burnt.

The plan shows three such furnaces with space for a fourth, each of which is capable of consuming 25 tons of rubbish in 16 hours.

No special design is indicated for the furnaces as various kinds are in use and are efficient.

In the incinerator house a boiler is provided for each furnace for the generation of steam.

The chimney is located at the end of the plant and is estimated to be 150 ft in height.

Arrangements should be made to permit the refuse from Hospitals and sick rooms to be delivered from River avenue and by means of electric cranes lifted directly up on the floor above the furnaces and there put into the fire.

The ashes from the furnaces can be temporarily stored upon the ground. A sufficient space is available, and the must be taken away.

Incinerator No. 1 is assumed to be able to dispose of 66 tons per 16 hours and its cost of construction is estimated as follows:

The cost of one of the furnaces, including a 300 horsepower boiler, combustion chamber, pump, forced draft piping would be about $15,000. Therefore:

Three furnaces complete.....	$45,000.00
Traveling cranes	5,000.00
Belt conveyors	1,000.00
Electrical equipment	12,000.00
Two buildings, one for the furnaces and the other for receiving the rubbish	50,000.00
Chimney and flues	5,000.00
Bridge, runways, etc.....	10,000.00
	$128,000.00

The cost of operating this incinerator on the assumption that 66 tons are burned in 16 hours, or 4.1 tons per hour, and assuming two shifts, will be $31.00, or 47 cents per ton.

If no picking is done, the estimated amount of 66 tons of rubbish would produce about 660 boiler horse power per hour or 500 k. w. h. Assuming that one-fourth of this power is used at the plant, that one-fourth is lost and that the remaining one-half is saleable, we can estimate for utilizing 33 tons of rubbish to produce 250 k. w. h. during 16 hours.

As the cost of steam with coal at $1.55 per ton is roughly estimated at .6 cents per k. w. h., the 250 k. w. h. can produce a revenue of $24.00 per day, or 36.3 cents per ton.

As the cost of incineration was $31.00 and the revenue $24.00, the net cost is $7.00 per day, or 10.6 cents per ton.

The daily interest and depreciation of the plant can be taken at $26.00, which would make the total daily net cost of incinerating 66 tons of rubbish $33.00, or 50 cents per ton.

No return can be expected from the sale of ashes for filling or for use on Roadways or otherwise, except that they would be worth the cost of removal.

If picking is done and the amount of rubbish is reduced thereby 50 per cent., then the quantity would be 33 tons per day, producing 330 boiler horsepower, or 250 k. w. h. If it is again assumed that only one-half the power is saleable, we can estimate on obtaining 125 k. w. h. and according to estimate a daily revenue of $12.00.

The daily cost of operating the incinerator was $31.00. Therefore, the net cost would be $19.00 per day. The daily interest and depreciation, if taken at $25.00, would give a total cost of $44.00 for incinerating 66 tons daily, or 66 cents per ton.

The revenue from picking may be estimated as follows: The prices received at your dumps indicate that it would be as great as in other cities. It is a fair estimate, therefore, to assume that a revenue of $3.00 per ton can be obtained from the assorted material, or $1.50 per ton delivered to the incinerator, after the expenses of picking have been paid. Allowing 50 cents per ton for interest, depreciation, power and supervision, we may figure that picking would bring a net profit of $1.00 from every ton delivered to the plant, or $66.00 per day. As the cost of incineration, after deducting the revenue from the sale of electricity, is $44.00, it would leave a net profit of $22.00 per day for the estimated tonnage of 66 tons per day, or 33 cents per ton. It is assumed in this calculation that the character of the waste rubbish is the same as in other large American cities.

INCINERATOR NO. 2.

The incinerator proposed for Panther Hollow would be designed for 33 tons per day, or one-half of the capacity of Incinerator No. 1. It would consist of two furnaces, but otherwise be similar to No. 1. In the appendix a plan shows an adjustment to the general slope of the ground.

The cost of this furnace exclusive of land would be as follows:

Two furnaces complete.....	$30,000.00
Traveling cranes	3,500.00
Belt conveyor	800.00
Electrical equipment	8,000.00
Buildings	35,000.00
Chimney and flues	4,000.00
Roadways and grading.....	15,000.00
	$96,300.00

Based on the estimate of Incinerator No. 1, it is assumed that the cost of incineration at this furnace would be $16.50 per day or 50 cents per ton. If no picking is done the estimated amount of 33 tons per day would produce 250 k. w. h., and if one-half of this power could be sold, there could be a revenue from 125 k. w. h. during 16 hours, which, on the same basis as before, would be $12.00 per day. As the cost of incineration is $16.50, this would leave a net profit of $4.50 per day or 13.5 cents per ton.

With interest and depreciation estimated at $20 per day, the total cost of 33 tons would be $15.50, or 47 cents per ton.

If picking is done, then, according to the same figures used above, the revenue from electric light and power would be $6.00 per day, and from picking $33.00 per day, or $39.00 in all.

As the total cost of incineration was $15.50, there would be a net profit from 33 tons of $25.50 per day or 71 cents per ton.

These figures indicate that if the rubbish is picked over and a sale is secured for the electric power generated the incineration of the rubbish would more than pay the cost thereof.

CONCLUSION AND

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The disposal of city waste materials in our large cities is becoming a most important municipal problem, both from a sanitary and economic aspect. The bulk of rejected matter is so large that its disposal requires large areas and economical delivery. It also requires a destruction of all unsanitary parts.

The larger the city the less it is possible for every householder to dispose of the material on his own premises, or by his own means. The collection of the refuse and its disposal from the entire city must be regulated and carried out under strict laws and according to methods on a large scale, which have been ascertained from the best experiences. The municipality is therefore compelled to undertake such work itself, either through its own employees or by contract.

The City of Pittsburgh has expanded to a size when it becomes more economical and effective to undertake the collection and disposal of its refuse by its own officers than to permit each householder to dispose of it in whatever manner he desires. Practically, all cities in the United States have adopted this policy, and it therefore is recommended to you that the City control not only the collection and disposal of its street sweepings, as at present, but also the rubbish and ashes discarded at the buildings.

Although such a control can be exercised through contracts, it has been found more satisfactory by most cities to collect its refuse by its own employees and equipment.

It is further recommended that the collection and disposal of ashes be conducted separately from the collection and disposal of rubbish for two reasons.

1. Clean ashes are sanitary and can be safely utilized anywhere within the city for filling land, and for various other purposes as a substitute for stone and sand, in both cases representing a value which is found to compensate at least for the cost of their removal.

2. The rubbish which is the most unsanitary of all the refuse can be effectively disposed of, if not mixed with ashes, at a less cost by burning than in any other way. In modern furnaces rubbish, which has a calorific value of about one-third of that of coal, can develop high temperatures, and if the operation is properly managed, this temperature can be economically utilized in the making of steam and electricity. There are many large furnaces burning refuse where this is being done, and there are no conditions in Pittsburgh to prevent the same advantage from being secured.

The separate collection of rubbish makes it further possible to obtain a revenue by picking out the more valuable parts, such as paper, bottles, metals and rags, which revenue in three of our largest cities is greater than the cost of the incineration. Owing to the sanitary dangers lurking in some of the rubbish, it would be necessary to exclude from picking all such which comes from hospitals and sick rooms, where there are contagious diseases. All such rubbish could be collected and removed by separate wagons under the supervision of the Bureau of Health and delivered directly to the furnaces without being subjected to a prior picking.

From what has been said, it is recommended that the City be divided at present into two districts, each having an incinerator to which the rubbish could be most economically delivered. Incinerator No. 1 could be located at River Avenue Pumping Station site, and No. 2 in Panther Hollow, below Wilnot street.

It is recommended that the incinerators be designed as high temperature furnaces, or the most efficient type, so that steam can be produced by the burning of rubbish, and electricity generated so as to yield a revenue and lessen the cost of disposal. The estimated cost of Incinerator No. 1 is $128,000.00, including land, and of No. 2 it is $36,300.00, excluding land. Both would be equipped for these costs for the delivery of electricity.

It is further recommended that arrangements be made at the incinerators to allow a picking over of the rubbish before it is burned, so as to secure the largest practicable revenue therefrom and to allow of infectious rubbish to be discharged directly into the furnaces upon delivery.

With a well studied design for the two incinerating plants and with a sale of about one-half of the generated electricity and of the most profitable pickings, there would be a total revenue at least as large as the expense of the plant and possibly materially greater.

Regarding the collection and disposal of street sweepings, it is recommended that they be divided into three classes, one, containing a sufficient amount of manure, to be delivered as heretofore to parks or where they can be used as fertilizer, another, containing sufficient amount of combustible matter, to be delivered to the incinerator and burned, and the rest of the street sweepings, which would contain the largest amount of mineral matter, to be taken to dumps together with ashes, which eventually would be outside of the city, on account of the scarcity of suitable territory within the same.

Regarding the disposal of night soil, it is recommended that it be treated as sewage and either discharged, under proper precautions against offensiveness, into large sewers or at once into the current of the rivers, until another disposition is made of the entire quantity of sewage of the city.

In view of the absence of accurate data and statistics, particularly regarding the collection of the refuse, it has been necessary to make rough approximations in a number of instances. But it is believed that they are sufficiently close to make the final figures reasonably correct, and certainly to justify the final and main conclusions of this report.

Respectfully presented,
RUDOLPH HERING.

January 25, 1908.

To the Hon. Geo. W. Guthrie, Mayor, and Members of the Select and Common Councils, of the City of Pittsburgh, Penna.

Gentlemen:

On January 18, 1908, I had the honor to report to you concerning the collection and disposal of ashes, street sweepings, rubbish and night soil in the city of Pittsburgh. In compliance with a request of Dr. J. F. Edwards, Superintendent of the Bureau of Health, in his letter of January 11, 1908, and my letter of January, 1908, I respectfully transmit herewith a supplementary report going into the detail of an installation for the collection of ashes and rubbish by city employees.

The report of January 18, 1908, dealt at length with the method and cost of disposal of the several materials above mentioned and dealt with the methods and cost of collection only so far as these relate to the disposal.

The present report deals with the methods and cost of collection of ashes and rubbish if undertaken by the city itself.

In the City of Greater Pittsburgh ashes and rubbish as already reported are collected by private individuals or companies and hauled to private dumps. In many instances the rubbish is burned in cages in the back yards of private buildings.

In the previous report it was estimated that the total annual cost of collection as at present carried on was $354,000. The quantities collected in the whole city amounted to 320 tons of ashes and 46 tons of rubbish per day. This estimate was based on certain estimates made by my assistant, Mr. C. F. Drake, during the month of December, 1907. The daily collection of ashes will be greater during the month of December and other winter months than during the summer. It will therefore be higher than the average collection for the whole year. From experiences in other cities the percentage has been determined which the average daily collection of ashes bears to the daily collection during the month of December, as follows:

For the Borough of Richmond, N. Y. City, 82 per cent.

For the Borough of Brooklyn, N. Y. City, 80 per cent.

For the Borough of Queens, N. Y. City, 73 per cent.

For the Borough of Manhattan, N. Y. City, 80 per cent.

For the Borough of Bronx, N. Y. City, 80 per cent.

For Philadelphia, Pa., 74 per cent.

For Buffalo, N. Y., 80 per cent.

From this evidence it can be fairly assumed that in Greater Pittsburgh the daily collection of ashes when averaged for a year of 300 days is 75 per cent. of the average daily collection during December.

The collection of rubbish is nearly constant throughout the year.

For the proper and convenient collection of the ashes and rubbish the city may be divided into two districts, as recommended in the previous report upon the collection and disposal of rubbish and ashes.

On the basis of a division of the population between these two districts and because in District No. 1 are located nearly all the stores, office buildings, factories, etc., the total daily collection of ashes can be estimated as being 240 tons from District No. 1 and 80 tons from District No. 2, or together 320 tons, as recorded in the former report.

The total daily collection of rubbish was found to be 46 tons at present. But when the city collects it, the private burning will most likely cease and the daily quantity collected would no doubt soon increase to 60 tons. Of this amount it is proper to apportion 40 tons to District No. 1 and 20 tons to District No. 2.

There should, however, be an ordinance passed to require that owners of stores, office buildings, factories, etc., should themselves collect and deliver their own trade wastes and rubbish. As nearly all of such trade waste and rubbish would come from District No. 1, and therefore the amount to be collected by the city would be greatly reduced, it has been estimated that from each of the two districts there would be a collection required by the city of 20 tons per day.

Therefore it is necessary when providing for the collection of rubbish and ashes to have an equipment of horses, wagons, harness, etc., for a daily collection in District No. 1 of 240 tons of ashes and 20 tons of rubbish, and in District No. 2 of 80 tons of rubbish and 20 tons of ashes.

For the installation of stables, yards and other permanent equipment for the service, provision should be made for the growth of the collection and it has been estimated that it would be well thus to provide in District No. 1 for 300 tons of ashes and 40 tons of rubbish and in District No. 2 for 100 tons of ashes and 33 tons of rubbish.

The City of Pittsburgh now owns over 90 pieces of unused real estate. Some of these properties will be needed for stables and perhaps for new dumps, because all the dumps now used are owned by private parties and the city would probably desire to have some for its own use.

Besides the stables and yards for storing carts the city will have to provide horses, harness, rubbish carts, ash wagons, a few buggies, etc. The kind and quantities of these various items may be determined as follows:

As District No. 1 is large and embodies not only the main part of Pittsburgh but also Old Allegheny, it has been decided to estimate for two stables, one being on the North Side and the other in Old Pittsburgh. In District No. 2 it will be necessary to locate but a single stable.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

Rubbish. A rubbish cart similar in pattern to those used in New York City holds approximately 7.3 cubic yards, or 1,100 pounds, which would be equivalent to about 0.55 ton.

The average haul for the rubbish in District No. 1 has been estimated at 1.5 miles.

It is now assumed that each rubbish cart could make 4 trips per day, as the haul would be down hill, thus collecting 2.2 tons per day.

As stated above there are 20 tons of rubbish per day to be collected in this district. Therefore there would be required the use of 10 rubbish carts. Assuming one cart from each stable to be out of order, it would be necessary to have 12 carts. Assuming the same relation for horses, there would be required 12 horses for the district.

Ashes. It is proposed in this report to use an ash wagon holding about 4.5 cubic yards. It is further proposed to have two horses and two men for each wagon. As ashes weigh approximately a thousand pounds per cubic yard each load would be 2.25 tons. The average haul for ashes in District No. 1 was estimated at 1.5 miles. Each wagon could make 5 trips per day, and will, therefore collect 11.25 tons per day. As there are in this district 240 tons of ashes to be collected per day on the December basis, it would be necessary to have 23 wagons. Or, with reserve it is estimated that 24 will be required.

As there would be two stables in this district the above equipment should be properly divided between them.

Stables. The size of the stables built or rented at the present time should provide for future growth rather than only for present conditions.

As above stated, it has been estimated that in the next few years there might be collected 300 tons of ashes and 40 tons of rubbish. Therefore there would be required in District No. 1 stable room for 80 horses, or 40 horses for each stable.

At the stable there should be required a paved and fenced yard for the storage of wagons and carts and also all necessary water and sewer connections. The stables may be two-storied frame buildings with sufficient space for hay, feed and general equipments and should give approximately 100 square feet of ground area per horse.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

Rubbish. As above stated, it is estimated that there will be 20 tons of rubbish daily collected in this district.

The equipment for the collection would therefore be the same as in District No. 1, namely, 12 rubbish carts and 12 horses.

Ashes. The estimate of ashes given above was 80 tons per day. As in District No. 1, each wagon would haul 2.25 tons and is assumed to make 5 trips per day. Therefore 7 wagons would be required for the hauling of the ashes in this District and to allow for repairs 9 have been estimated.

It is therefore assumed that there will be 16 horses kept on hand for collecting the ashes in this district.

Stables. On the same basis as in District No. 1, there should be an estimate made for the future capacity and this has been estimated for 100 tons of ashes and 33 tons of rubbish to be collected.

Accordingly there will be required 33 horses.

In this district also there should be a paved and fenced yard for carts and wagons as well as water and sewer connections. The capacity of the stables should be approximately 100 square feet of ground area per horse.

COST OF EQUIPMENT.

The cost of the equipment for the collection service in Districts Nos. 1 and 2 is based upon current Pittsburgh prices.

Below is given a detailed estimate of cost for both districts and in District No. 1 for both stables, assuming that their cost would be alike.

ESTIMATE OF COST OF EQUIPMENT.

District No. 1.

Stable A and Equipment:

30 horses at $285.00.....	$ 8,550.00
30 harnesses at $50.00.....	1,500.00
6 rubbish carts at $150.00....	900.00
12 ash wagons at $300.00.....	3,600.00
1 buggy at $125.00.....	125.00

Stable to accommodate 40 horses at $400.00 per horse..	16,000.00
Yard for carts	700.00
Water and sewer connections..	1,000.00
	$32,375.00
Plus 15 per cent. for contingencies	4,856.25
	$37,231.25
Stable B and equipment same as stable A	37,231.25
	$74,462.50

ESTIMATE OF COST OF EQUIPMENT.

District No. 2.

28 horses at $285.00	$ 7,980.00
26 sets harness at $50.00	1,300.00
12 rubbish carts at $150.00	1,800.00
10 ash wagons at $300.00	3,000.00
1 buggy at $125.00	125.00
Stable to accommodate 38 horses at $400.00	15,200.00
Yard for carts and wagons	700.00
Water and sewer connections..	1,000.00
	$31,105.00
Plus 15 per cent. for contingencies	4,665.75

Total cost for equipment for District No. 2

The total estimated cost of equipment for both districts is, therefore, as follows:

District No. 1	$ 74,462.50
District No. 2	35,770.75
	$110,233.25

COST OF OPERATION.

Below is found an estimate of the cost of operation for a period of one year based on the assumption that the number of wagons, horses and men is constant throughout the year.

The operating expenses may be decreased slightly by the transfer of portions of the equipment to other city departments during the summer months when the collection of ashes is small. Assuming, however, that no such transfer is made the cost of collection per ton of ashes and rubbish is as follows:

ESTIMATE OF COST OF OPERATION PER TON FOR ASHES AND RUBBISH.

Cost per Ton.
Rubbish. Ashes.
Feed, shoeing, veterinary, bedding and stableman	$.45	$.18
Drivers' wages	1.00	.40
Superintendence at stables ..	.09	.04
Repairs to harness, carts and wagons	.05	.02
General administration expenses	.05	.02
	$1.64	$.66

For contingencies	.26	.14
	$1.90	$.80

This is equivalent to the following unit prices:

Per ton of ashes collected	$0.80
Per cubic yard of ashes collected..	.40
Per ton of rubbish collected	1.90
Per cubic yard of rubbish collected	.14

Based on the foregoing quantities and unit costs of collection per ton and the costs of equipment there is given below an estimate of the annual cost of operation including interest and depreciation on the property and on the equipment.

The estimate is based upon the total amount of rubbish equivalent to 40 tons per day for a year of 300 days or 12,000 tons per year. It is further based on 240 tons per day of ashes for a year of 300 days, or 72,000 tons per year.

12,000 tons of rubbish at $1.90 ..	$22,800.00
72,000 tons of ashes at .. .80.	57,600.00
Interest at 4 per cent. on $110,233.25	4,409.33
Depreciation at 1 per cent. on $52,300.00	523.00
And at 10 per cent. on $43,555.00	4,355.50

Total cost of operation $89,787.83

From what has been stated above, it will, therefore, be seen that there will be required for equipment an investment in District No. 1 of $74,463.00 and in District No. 2 of $35,770.75, or in round numbers $110,000.

It will further be seen that the annual cost of operation in collecting ashes and rubbish as estimated above for the next few years would be in round numbers about $90,000 per annum.

Very truly yours,

RUDOLPH HERING.

JOINT SESSION

For the purpose of electing a City Controller to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John B. Larkin, late City Controller.

President Walters said:

"Gentlemen:—We are meeting in joint session for the purpose of electing a Controller to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John B. Larkin."

Mr. Soffel arose and said:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen:—At this time, I ask the privilege of the floor in order to perform one of the most pleasant duties that ever fell to my lot. I take pleasure in placing in nomination for the office of city controller the name of a man whom you all know well, and some of you very well.

"God, in his divine wisdom, saw fit to remove from our midst our late friend, John B. Larkin, and that came to us like a thunder clap from a clear sky, and we were baffled for a short time, and probably asked ourselves the question, 'Why was it done?' In 1839 our Lord was good to us by allowing or permitting a son to be born in Fifth avenue, on April 10th, and that son was reared and educated in the Third and Eighth wards of the City of Pittsburgh, graduating from the grammar schools to the high school and after passing through there he entered upon the reading of law, and at the age of twenty-three years the people of the Eighth ward, looking about among their number for a candidate to serve in the capacity of alderman, the lot fell upon the shoulders of this young man, and he was the choice of the people and was elected to that office and served there as only this man could serve. In 1871, when Pittsburgh Councils were casting about for a suitable man to carry out the functions of city clerk, they went to the Eighth ward, and there selected this man, who served in that capacity from 1871 until 1881, when the people of this city, of the whole city of Pittsburgh, were looking for a man to serve in the capacity of city controller, and after having used all their powers in determining upon a candidate, they finally chose this man. In 1881 this man became city controller and served until 1893, and most of you know how well he served the people during that time, and I am led to believe that he could have had the nomination again, but, for reasons best known to himself, he would not accept it. In 1893 Henry I. Gourley was elected city controller. Mr. Gourley was noted for his shrewdness as a politician and his ability as a business man, and he saw clearly the fact that he must have associated with him one who was well versed in municipal affairs and who had the business of the controller's office at his fingers' ends, and he consequently appointed this man assistant controller, and he has served in that capacity up to this very hour.

"I want to say in placing this man's name in nomination, that we have one who is a God-fearing man; a man who devotes one night of every week to the teaching of a Bible class, and who devotes one day, the Holy day, the Sabbath, to his church. He is a member of the Eighth U. P. Church, which meets in Van Braam street.

"He has served the city since 1871 continuously, and his record speaks for itself.

"I would therefore, gentlemen, take great pleasure, at this time, in placing before you for the election as controller to fill the unexpired term of our late city controller, the name of my friend, your friend, and the trusted friend of the people, E. S. Morrow."

Mr. Brand arose and said:

"Mr. Chairman and Members of Councils:—It affords me great pleasure to second the nomination of this man. He has been tried and has never been found wanting in any particular field of duty. When an occasion like this arises, we sometimes feel that we have lost a man who cannot be replaced, but Providence always provides a man who is willing and qualified and prepared to fill the vacancy.

"I certainly believe that by seconding the nomination of this man, that it is a nomination that will be ratified by every voter within the bounds of this municipality—a municipality that is second to none under the Stars and Stripes of this great country.

In presenting this man's name for nomination, my colleague from the Thirty-second ward has certainly presented the name of a man thoroughly versed in the laws of this municipality and the business of this particular department of which he is to become the head. He is every man's friend, the taxpayer's friend and the friend of every councilman with whom he has come in contact.

"I have the pleasure of having been acquainted with him for the past six years and during that time have been very closely connected with him in municipal affairs, and there has never been an occasion when a question arose that left a doubt in the minds of the chief executive or of the members of councils that his advice has not been sought, and without fear of contradiction I will say that when that advice was followed it was found to be good, proper and just.

"I wish to say in conclusion that this man will be revered in the position of controller as long as the history of Pittsburgh remains upon the pages of the history of the American Republic.

"All will be proud of having given their support here to-night to elect E. S. Morrow city controller of this city.

"I thank you, gentlemen."

And the result of the voting was as follows:

For Mr. E. S. Morrow—

Messrs.

Armstrong	Kearns	Schad
Atkinson	Kenna	Schlernitzauer
Burns	Kohne	Semmelrock
Casserly	Lennox	Stewart

Walters, President.

And Mr. E. S. Morrow received one hundred one (101) votes.

And Mr. E. S. Morrow, having received a majority of the votes of Councils, was declared duly elected City Controller to fill the unexpired term of John B. Larkin, deceased.

Mr. Stewart moved

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh.

GENTLEMEN:

Referring to resolution S. C. No. 131, I have to inform you that I have never seen, nor had in my possession, nor under my control, a list of the stockholders of the Monongahela Water Company.

As appears by the accompanying communication from the City Solicitor no such list was furnished to him, nor to his knowledge to any legal representative of the City. I am,

Very respectfully yours,

GEO. W. GUTHRIE,
Mayor.

S. C. No. 131. Whereas, In the appraisal proceedings for the purchase of the works of the Monongahela Water Company, the legal representatives of the City have been furnished with a list of the stockholders of said company, and said list may be of value in consideration of an ordinance now pending in Councils for the annulment of the contract between the City and said Company; now, be it

DEPARTMENT OF LAW,
PITTSBURGH, PA., Feb. 10, 1908. }
To the Honorable, the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh.

GENTLEMEN:

I have received resolution, S. C. No. 131. OFFICE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,
PITTSBURGH, PA., Feb. 10, 1908. }

To the Members of Select Council of the City of Pittsburgh.

GENTLEMEN:

In compliance with S. C. No. 669, directing that this Department prepare and report to Select Council an estimate of the cost of the construction of a market building, to be erected in the Diamond square, and authorizing and directing the employment of an architect to prepare plans therefor, I beg to submit the following report, with plans:

The architects employed were Messrs. Alden & Harlow, and in the study and treatment of the scheme it was thought best to provide for a building covering the site now occupied by both East and West Diamond Market houses; to be three stories in height, with an arcade running through on the line of Diamond street, and arching over Market street, with a basement in which would be located cold storage arrangements, and also conveniences for public comfort, the first and second floors being devoted to market purposes and the third floor for an auditorium, the seating capacity of which will be 3,800 on the floor and 1,050 in the gallery, or a total of 4,850.

The plans provide for a floor space, for actual stall purposes, of 9,600 square feet on the first floor, and 12,000 square feet of stall space on the second floor. The second floor to be a comparatively low story, reached by an easy incline, as is also the basement, there being no stairways used; providing, also, for large elevators.

The building to be entirely fireproof; to be of steel construction, faced on the outside with concrete stone, having all the appearance of limestone.

All floors, stairs, roofs, inclines, and other structural parts will be of steel and reinforced concrete or other fireproofing.

All the walls on the inside except in auditorium will be lined with enameled brick, and all floors except as above will be covered with asphalt.

All frame and sash in window openings will be of iron.

The estimated cost of this building, completed, is $905,100.00. The estimated revenue, not including the rentals which may be obtained from the Auditorium, based upon present rental prices, is $115,600.00 per annum.

Yours respectfully,

A. B. SHEPHERD,

Mr. Stevenson moved

To amend the bill in section I, page 2, line 18, item, "Appropriation No. —, for Street Repaving" (see schedule), by adding the words, "$242,750.00."

Mr. Stevenson said

MR. PRESIDENT:

The purpose of the amendment is to insert a specific amount for street repaving in the blank space on page 2, line 18 of Bill 166.

According to newspaper reports, there is a plan on foot to issue 4½ per cent. bonds for $750,000.00 for street repaving. Such a proposition is unbusiness like and inimical to the best interests of the City. In issuing ten-year bonds as proposed, it will be necessary to appropriate each year $75,000.00 for sinking fund and $33,750.00 for interest. In ten years, the life of the bonds, the City would pay $750,000.00 face of the bonds and $337,500.00 interest, a total of $1,087,500.00, a large amount for the privilege of getting $750,000.00 of work done. Gentlemen, this plan comes high. According to the records, the City of Pittsburgh has never exceeded $175,000.00 to $185,000.00 worth of repaving in any year. It's impossible to get more than that amount of work done. Now, if we borrow $750,000.00, what will we do with the money? At the rate we are going, it would take us five years to spend it. I suppose we could put it in the city depositories and get 2 percent. for it, but that is not business. No man would conduct his private business on such principles. For the information of the members from the North Side, I want to say the City of Pittsburgh is now and will continue to pay interest and sinking fund on the Penn avenue improvement Bonds, thirty-year bonds and the pavements out of sight, for these reasons, gentlemen, I ask you to amend this ordinance providing $242,750.00 for the street repaving schedule. This will necessitate an increase of one-half a mill on the tax levy, amounting to $209,000.00; add to it $33,750.00, the interest set aside for one year as interest on the proposed bonds, making a total appropriation this year of $242,750.00.

Mr. Stewart moved

To amend the amendment by inserting the words "$275,000.00," in lieu of "$242,750.00."

And Mr. Stevenson accepted the amendment as offered by Mr. Stewart.

And the motion prevailed.

And the bill, as read a second time and amended, was agreed to.

And the bill was laid over for reprinting.

And upon motion of Mr. Kenna

Council adjourned.

BUSINESS FROM COMMON COUNCIL.

C. C. No. 311.

MAYOR'S OFFICE
PITTSBURGH, PA., March 16, 1908. }

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

Gentlemen:—

I have the honor to return herewith, without my approval, Ordinance S. C.
No. 60, entitled "An ordinance authorizing the vacation of South Seventh street, from Bingham street to the right of way of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company."

The sole purpose of this ordinance is to give to the A. M. Byers Company a strip of ground fronting fifty (50) feet on Bingham street in the South Side, and extending back five hundred thirty (530) feet to the P. & L. E. R. R., containing twenty-six thousand five hundred (26,- 500) square feet, which, even at the assessed value of the adjoining property of the firm, is worth $21,200.00.

The ordinance will also release the same firm from the payment to the city of an annual sum of $119.00 for a railroad switch which it now maintains on the street, and also the sum of $25.00 from the P. & L. E. R. R. Co. for 50 feet of track crossing the street

I very much doubt the wisdom of vacating any streets in the old portions of the city, particularly when leading toward the river, without receiving an equivalent accommodation for public travel in the same neighborhood.

But, even if the city can prudently surrender the street now under consideration, I deny the right to do so when the only effect of the vacation is to give to a private company a valuable property for which the city receives no consideration.

The need of the city for additional and wider streets in the old districts is apparent. It is seeking to secure them in many places, but, in every instance, is met with heavy claims for compensation to private interests. What justice then is there in surrendering to private interests rights of way without equivalent return?

I have held this ordinance to the last moment in the hopes of being able to make some such satisfactory arrangement with the parties to be benefited. I am in receipt of a letter from the representative of the firm protesting against any payment to the city, but offering as a final concession to pay $5,000.00 to the city. I consider this amount, however, an entirely inadequate return for the benefit to be given. I am,

Very respectfully yours,

GEO. W. GUTHRIE,

Mayor.

No. 257.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
PITTSBURGH, PA., March 20, 1908. }

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh.

Gentlemen:

I have the honor to return herewith, without my approval, ordinance S. C. No. 107, entitled:

"An Ordinance, Granting unto the Monongahela Street Railway Company, its lessees, successors and assigns, the right to enter upon, use and occupy certain streets, avenues and highways in the City of Pittsburgh; to lease its franchises and property, or parts thereof; to acquire the franchises and property of other passenger railway companies, and to connect its tracks with the tracks of other passenger railway companies."

S. C. No. 108 entitled:

"An Ordinance, authorizing the Second Avenue Passenger Railway Company, its lessees, successors and assigns, to construct an additional track on Greenfield avenue; to connect said additional track with its tracks as now laid on Second avenue and Greenfield avenue; to use electricity as a motive power; to lease its franchises and property, or parts thereof; to acquire the property and franchises of other passenger railway companies and to connect its tracks with the tracks of other passenger railway companies."

The Monongahela Street Railway Company has a perpetual private right of way over private property from Hazelwood avenue to the southerly end of the bridge crossing Beechwood Boulevard and Saline avenue.

This right of way was granted to it in perpetuity by the owners of the property affected at the time of the construction of its railway, and the purpose of the ordinance is to induce the company to surrender that right of way to the property owners and to transfer its tracks to the location of Murray avenue, for the location and opening and fixing of grade ordinances have already been passed by your honorable bodies.

In the proceedings before the Board of Viewers to ascertain the damages for opening and grade, the property owners have presented claims for damages to the amount of $54,350.00. The Monongahela Street Railway Company already has a perpetual right of way, and is being asked to change to another location on their property, not for its own advantage, but for the accommodation of the property owners; if the City consents to this change in order to relieve the property owners from a location which is injurious to them, it has certainly done all that it should be asked to do. It would manifestly be unfair to expect the City to pay any portion of the cost in providing and grading the new location. That is a matter which should be adjusted between the Railways Company and the property owners.

I do not think it just to the City that it should be exposed to any claim for cost or expenses in securing and improving the new location for the Company. At a conference with the property owners concerned, I informed them that if they or the Company, would release and indemnify the City from any liability for cost, damages or expense in the opening, grading and paving of Murray avenue, I would approve these ordinances, otherwise not.

The Councilmen from the Twenty-third ward, the one most immediately affected, were present with the principal property owners; and they all expressed their entire satisfaction with the arrangement and agreed to carry it out, but have not, as yet, executed the necessary agreements for the protection of the City.

As the time allowed for me to act is about to expire, I have felt it my duty for the protection of the City to return the ordinances without my approval.

Manifestly, it is unjust that the City should be called upon to pay a large sum of money to open and grade this street, in order to enable the property owners directly affected to secure a release of the perpetual right of way which they voluntarily gave to the Street Railways Company.

If the property owners, or the Railways Company, want a change of location, it should be done at their own expense—to expose the City to a claim so large as is presented in this case, when the only benefit is to the property owners and the Railways Company, would be unjust.

I am,

Very respectfully yours,

GEO. W. GUTHRIE,

Mayor.

No. 258.

MAYOR'S OFFICE

PITTSBURGH, PA., March 20, 1908. }

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh.

Gentlemen:

I have the honor to return herewith, without my approval, S. C. Ordinance No. 12, entitled, "An Ordinance fixing the salaries of the three (3) Civil Service Commissioners who constitute the Board of Civil Service Commission in the City of Allegheny."

The effect of this ordinance is to increase the salaries of the three (3) Civil Service Commissioners, who constituted the Board of Civil Service Commission in the City of Allegheny prior to consolidation beyond the amounts fixed by the City of Allegheny at the time of their appointment and at the date of such consolidation.

Section 29 of the Act of May 23rd, 1907, provides, that in the case of the consolidation of any cities having Civil Service Boards "such consolidation or annexation shall not deprive any of said commissioners of his office and compensation for the full term for which he shall have been appointed."

Under this provision, the gentlemen who constituted the Civil Service Commission of the City of Allegheny are exercising their office and receiving their compensation as it was fixed by the City of Allegheny; they have the right, under the law, to retain the office and receive this compensation if they desire to do so; but, I can see no reason which requires or even justifies the City of Pittsburgh paying them a larger salary than the City of Allegheny paid them, and which they were willing to accept at the time of their appointments.

The City of Pittsburgh is proceeding in good faith to carry out the provisions of the statutes under which the consolidation took place; it is paying the same salaries to the former officials and employees of Allegheny which they received from that City prior to consolidation.

Some of these officials are superfluous; but as long as they discharge their duty their right to their offices will be strictly regarded; but neither law nor equity requires the City of Pittsburgh to increase their salaries for the balance of their terms.

The unfairness of any other course is clearly shown in the case of the Civil Service Commission. There is no necessity for more than three (3) Commissioners, and after the first Monday of April, 1909, (the end of the term of the present Commissioners), the Board will be reduced to that number. If the consolidated city continues the Board with the salaries fixed by the respective cities, thereby retaining and paying three (3) unnecessary officials, it will be doing all that it can reasonably be asked to do, and at the same time complying fully with the spirit and letter of the law.

In some instances Allegheny paid its employees more than Pittsburgh did; in most instances the pay is in both cases practically the same; in a few cases the pay fixed by Allegheny is less than that fixed by Pittsburgh. There would be fairness in the proposition to make a complete revision of the pay of all officers and employees. In that case I am advised that the total amount to be paid by the consolidated city would be reduced; but, to increase the pay of those whose pay is below that amount paid in Pittsburgh, without reducing all those who are above them, and particularly, where the office is superfluous, is not fair to the consolidated city and its taxpayers.

I am,
Very respectfully yours,
GEO. W. GUTHRIE,
Mayor.

Whereas, On the 25th day of November, 1758, the British and Colonial forces took possession of the territory surrounding the junction of the Ohio, Allegheny and Monongahela rivers and established a fort on the land between the rivers and named it "Fort Pitt," then and there laying the foundation of the present City of Pittsburgh; and

Whereas, This whole territory has now been consolidated into one municipality under the name of the City of Pittsburgh, thereby perpetuating the name then adopted; and

Whereas, It is proper that the consolidated city should this year celebrate in proper manner the one hundred fiftieth (150th) anniversary of its foundation; therefore, be it

The Chair presented

No. 305.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
PITTSBURGH, PA., March 30, 1908. }

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

GENTLEMEN:

I have the honor to return herewith, without my approval, Ordinance S. C. No. 223, entitled: "An Ordinance repealing an Ordinance entitled: 'An Ordinance authorizing the opening of Negley avenue from Wilkins avenue to Irwin avenue and the assessment of damages caused by the grade of same,' approved March 28, 1906."

The extension of Negley avenue from Wilkins avenue southwardly is essential to the proper opening up and development of this district.

Between Beeler street and Murray avenue, a distance of over 2,200 feet along Wilkins avenue, the only street now opened connecting Wilkins avenue with such important streets as Northumberland, Irwin and Forbes is Wightman street; and Wightman street, owing to the steep grades both going up from Wilkins avenue and down to Forbes street is almost impracticable.

Negley avenue along the line proposed should in the best interest of the public be opened now, and certainly must be opened in a short time, and I am satisfied that it can be opened now at less expense than at any time in the future.

I would therefore recommend that the proceeding already instituted for the opening of the street be allowed to go on.

I am,

Very respectfully yours,
GEO. W. GUTHRIE,
Mayor.

Which was read, received and filed.

And

S. C. Bill No. 223. An Ordinance entitled "An Ordinance repealing an Ordinance entitled 'An Ordinance authorizing the opening of Negley avenue, from Wilkins avenue to Irwin avenue, and the assessment of damages caused by the grade of the same,' approved March 8, 1906."

No. 327.

MAYOR'S OFFICE
PITTSBURGH, PA., April 13, 1908. }

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

Gentlemen—I have the honor to transmit herewith copy of the proposed report of the Appraisers appointed by the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County, at No. 318 March Term, 1908, to appraise the value of the Water Works of the Monongahela Water Company within the limits of the Twenty-fourth to Thirty-sixth wards, both inclusive, of the City of Pittsburgh, fixing the value of said property, including the rights and privileges of the company, at the sum of One Million Nine Hundred Seventy-five Thousand ($1,975,000.00) Dollars.

Notice of this report was served on the City Attorney on Saturday, April 11th. It will be held by the Appraisers ten (10) days for exceptions by either the City or the Company, after which period it will be filed in Court, as will appear by the notice served upon the City Attorney, copy of which is attached hereto.

I am,

Respectfully yours,

GEO. W. GUTHRIE,

Mayor.

In the Court of Common Pleas No. 1 of Allegheny County, Pa.

In re proceedings between the City of Pittsburgh and the Monongahela Water Company.

No. 317 March Term, 1908.

REPORT OF APPRAISERS.

To the Honorables, the Judges of said Court:

The appraisers appointed by the Court

"to appraise the value of the water works of the Monongahela Water Company, being and lying within the limits of the Twenty-fourth to the Thirty-sixth wards, both inclusive, of the City of Pittsburgh, as said limits existed on the 23d day of December, 1885, for the purpose of enabling the City of Pittsburgh to purchase said Water Works at the appraised value thereof, subject to deduction for any credits in the sinking fund of said Company or otherwise for the redemption under the terms and conditions of the contract, Exhibit B, attached to the petition, and the charter of said Monongahela Water Company."

do respectfully report:

That the Appraisers were duly sworn as directed in the order of their appointment.

That after a preliminary meeting with the counsel for the City of Pittsburgh and for the Monongahela Water Company, and upon due notice to the respective parties, the Appraisers viewed the premises and property of the said Monongahela Water Company, representative of the respective parties being also present.

That thereafter, to wit, on the Fourth day of November, 1907, after due notice to the parties, the Appraisers met with counsel for the parties in the Committee Room of the Public Safety Building, in the City of Pittsburgh, said City being represented by Messrs. W. B. Rodgers, Charles K. Robinson and A. B. Smith, and the Monongahela Water Company by being represented by Messrs. D. T. Watson, John M. Freeman and Ernest C. Irwin. When the Board of Appraisers was formally organized by electing David B. Oliver, Chairman, and with the approval of both parties, by electing Miss Suzanne S. Beatty as shorthand reporter and secretary.

That the Appraisers thereafter met with the parties by regular adjournments or upon due notice, on twenty-eight days, hearing witnesses and receiving the evidence adduced by the respective parties and hearing the arguments of their counsel; and they spent fifteen additional days in considering, determining and preparing their report.

That in the course of said hearings the testimony of many witnesses was given upon both sides, as well as much documentary evidence, the testimony covering over seventeen hundred typewritten pages and the documentary evidence numbering about one hundred exhibits.

That arguments were made by the learned counsel for the respective parties, both orally and by printed briefs, wherein the various questions involved in the case were ably and exhaustively discussed.

A question at variance between the parties was whether the Appraisers should include in their valuation anything beyond the physical property of the Water Company, with reasonable allowance for its installation and establishment as a going concern.

As to this the Appraisers have followed the instruction of the Court in the order of their appointment, as they understand them, to wit, to "make a fair appraisement of the property, rights and franchises of the said company;"

and consequently the Appraisers have considered with the physical property the intangible elements, so far as they add value to the plant, rightfully for use as water works in the hands of the Water Company, with the Company's right to charge reasonable tolls.

In their endeavor to put a fair valuation on the property in question as affected by the rights and franchises of the Company, the Appraisers have considered the subject from the various points of view presented by the evidence, and especially those of the worth of the physical property as a going concern, the income, the prospects and the market price of the Company's stock.

And now, April 11th, 1908, after viewing the property and after careful consideration of the evidence and of the arguments of counsel, we, the undersigned Appraisers do appraise the value of the Water Works of the Monongahela Water Company, being and lying within the limits of the Twenty-fourth to the Thirty-sixth wards, both inclusive, of the City of Pittsburgh, as said limits existed on the 23d day of December, 1885, including the property, rights and franchises of said Water Company affecting the same, at the sum of one million nine hundred seventy-five thousand dollars, and we further find that there is no deduction to be made therefrom for any credits in the sinking fund of the said Water Company or otherwise for the redemption under the terms and conditions of the contract Exhibit "B" attached to the petition, and the charter of the Monongahela Water Company.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The Chair presented

No. 365.

Office of Department of Public Works, Pittsburgh.

May 11th, 1908.

To the President and Members of Select Council:

Gentlemen:—In compliance with your Resolution S. C. No. 99, which instructs the Director of the Department of Public Works to have surveys made of Federal street, between the northerly line of Carrol street to the southerly line of Hawkins avenue, and to report what would be a reasonable, practicable grade over said street, if opened, and the estimated cost of opening the same to make it available for public use, and the advisability of so doing; and, if this is impracticable, the most available means for procuring a straight direct route from the downtown portions of the former City of Allegheny to the hilly districts along Perrysville avenue, and the approximate cost of procuring such a route, I beg to report as follows:

The line of Federal street as laid out by the Commonwealth in 1787, appears to be the only available street which comes within the terms and descriptions of your Resolution, as it is the only straight direct route from the downtown district of Allegheny to the hilly district along Perrysville avenue.

I have had the necessary surveys made and the accompanying plan shows the results of those surveys an alignment and grade.

There are two possible schemes shown on this plan, one being an eighty foot street from Carrol street to Perrysville avenue, having a grade of 8.735 per cent., including a tunnel of eighty feet in width and two hundred and eighty feet long, under LaFayette avenue. The estimated cost of the construction incident to this scheme, after allowing for all possible benefits to property affected, is about $713,000.00.

The other scheme shown contemplates a street on the same line, from Carrol street to Kenwood avenue, sixty feet in width, where an open cut is used, and fifty feet in width in the clear, inside of a proposed tunnel 1,550 feet long. This arrangement allows a grade of six per cent., and the total estimated cost, after allowing for all possible benefits, is about $922,000.00. This latter proposition seems to be the better, owing to the improvement in the grade, although the cost will be $200,000.00 more.

Respectfully submitted,

A. M. SHEPHERD,

Acting Director Department of Public Works.

Which was read, received and filed.

Also

No. 366. Plan submitted by the Director of the Department of Public Works showing proposed extension of Federal street, North Side.

Which was read.

Mr. Armstrong moved

That the plan be referred to a special committee of three (3).

Which motion prevailed.

And Messrs. Armstrong, Gelts and Tilbury were appointed.

And on motion of Mr. Mr. McCartney, Council Adjourned.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS.

The Chair presented

No. 381.

May 20th, 1908.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh.

Gentlemen:—

I return herewith, without my approval, the following Ordinances:

S. C. No. 300. Resolution in favor of Welsh Congregational Church for the sum of $362.86, refunding assessment paid for the grading, paving and curbing of South Twentieth street, and charge the same to the Contingent Fund.

S. C. No. 106. Resolution directing that the City Solicitor omit filing lien in the sum of $65.98 against the property of Thomas Sterck on account of the grading, paving and curbing of Hazelwood avenue.

S. C. No. 184. Resolution that the City Solicitor be and he is hereby authorized, directed and empowered to divide into equal proportion the assessment against lots Nos. 49 and 50 in Arlington Place plan, as assessed against W. H. Gahagen on "Private property and Elrod alley et al." sewer, on payment of the pro rata share of assessment and interest.

S. C. No. 215. Resolution directing that the City Solicitor shall be and he is hereby authorized and directed to exonerate the Christ Lutheran Church (North Side) from the payment of one-half the sewer assessment on McClure avenue, to wit, $118.39, etc.

S. C. No. 242. Resolution that the City Solicitor shall be and he is hereby authorized and directed to satisfy the lien filed at No. 213 November Term, 1904, for the sum of $770.31 against the property of the Watson Memorial Presbyterian Church for the grading, paving and curbing of Perrysville avenue, North Side, and have the costs thereon charged to the City.

The City Solicitor by three letters under date of May 19th, 1908, copies of which are herewith attached, advises me that all of these ordinances are illegal, for the reason that Councils have not the power to grant the releases and exonerations proposed.

The reasons assigned by the City Solicitor are so clear that it is unnecessary for me to add anything to what he says.

The City not having the power to what is proposed, the ordinances would not be valid, even with my approval, and, therefore, are returned forthwith. I am,

Very respectfully yours,
GEO. W. GUTHRIE,
Mayor.

Department of Law.

May 19th, 1908.

Hon. George W. Guthrie, Mayor.

Dear Sir—I return you S. C. No. 300, directing the refunding to the Welsh Congregational Church of the sum of $362.86 for the improvement of South Twentieth street; also C. C. No. 161, exonerating Mathias T. Glannon from benefits on the improvement of Brushton avenue in the sum of $381.05; also C. C. No. 162, exonerating John Marshall for the improvement of John Marshall avenue in the sum of $243.46; also S. C. No. 106, directing the City Solicitor not to file a lien against Thomas Sterck for $65.98, assessment of benefits in the improvement of Hazelwood avenue; also S. C. No. 184, directing the City Solicitor to divide the assessment against W. H. Gahagen for "Private property and Elrod alley et al." sewer.

As respect S. C. No. 300, no reason is given why this money should be refunded.

As respects C. C. No. 161 and No. 162 and S. C. No. 106, certain reasons are stated why the relief should be afforded.

As respects S. C. No. 184, no reason is given why this assessment should be divided.

In all these cases the assessments have been made in conformity with the laws of the State. If there was anything wrong with the assessments the party assessed had his day in Court and his remedy. The assessments are now judgments of a Court.

I think the law is that the City has no right to do anything in the premises in the way of paying back money already paid or granting exemptions as respects assessments not yet paid, and it would seem to follow that the Councils have no right to interfere with assessments in the way of dividing, or otherwise.

I hand you herewith a printed opinion by Mr. Beatty, Assistant Solicitor, which seems to me to be quite satisfactory as to the want of power in Councils to do what is proposed to be done in these several resolutions.

Very truly yours,
W. B. RODGERS,
City Solicitor.

Department of Law.

May 19th, 1908.

Hon. George W. Guthrie, Mayor.

Dear Sir—I return you herewith S. C. No. 215. The assessment in this case was regularly made by viewers. If the property could not drain into the sewer, and that made any difference on the assessment, the church, or the owners of the property, had their remedy.

The assessment being regularly made according to law, I do not think the Councils have any power to reduce it.

Very truly yours,
W. B. RODGERS,
City Solicitor.

Department of Law.

May 19th, 1908.

Hon. George W. Guthrie, Mayor.

Dear Sir—I return you S. C. No. 242. This lien was filed for the opening, widening, grading and paving of Perrysville avenue, under the curative legislation of 1899. The assessment was regularly made by viewers, and I do not think there is any authority in the Councils to direct that this lien be satisfied. The church was regularly assessed according to law, and it had its remedy as against the erroneous assessment. However, there was nothing erroneous in this assessment because church property was subject to assessment under the law.

Yours very truly,
W. B. RODGERS,
City Solicitor.

Which was read.

Mr. Frederick moved

The Chair presented

No. 403.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

May 27, 1908.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to return herewith, resolution Select Council No. 62, authorizing the exoneration of taxes to the Hunt Armory Association, also Select Council No. 216, directing an exoneration to the Athalia Daly Home.

As appears by the opinion of the City Solicitor, rendered May 26th, 1908, copy of which is hereto attached, these ordinances are both illegal, and I therefore return them without my approval.

I am,

Very respectfully yours,

GEO. W. GUTHRIE.

Mayor.

DEPARTMENT OF LAW.

Pittsburgh, May 26, 1908.

Hon. George W. Guthrie, Mayor.

Dear Sir:—I return you Resolution No. 62, directing the exoneration of the Hunt Armory Association from water rents, also Common Council No. 255, directing a similar exoneration on the Home the Good Shepherd; also Select Council No. 216, directing a similar exoneration on the Athalia Daly Home.

The exoneration proposed in Select Council No. 62 is not justified under the law.

With respect to the other resolutions, the ordinance levying water rents makes a provision that hospitals and charities supported by public and private contributions shall be allowed 150 gallons of water per day per average yearly number of inmates without charge, and for water used in excess of that amount the charge shall be by meter rates. And further, that the charges for each quarter year shall in no case be less than $1.00 for each such institution.

Assuming the ordinance to be good, there is no information in these resolutions as to what excess, if any, is used above 150 gallons per day per average yearly number of inmates and, therefore, for that reason alone, I do not consider the resolutions to be proper.

There is a further question, and that is whether the ordinance in this respect is good. Article IX, Section 7 of the Constitution prohibits the appropriation of "money for any corporation, association, institution or individual." The City, in furnishing water to private parties acts as a private corporation. I do not see upon what principle the City may discriminate between the users of water and charge some and exempt others. If this was a case of taxation the exemption would be good, but the charge is for a service rendered by the city in at least a quasi individual capacity.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) W. B. RODGERS,
City Solicitor.

Which was read, received and filed.

And

S. C. No. 62. Resolved, That the Collector of Delinquent Taxes shall be and he is hereby authorized and directed to exonerate the Hunt Armory Association (Battery B, tenants), Everett street and Larimer avenue, Twenty-first ward, from the payment of water taxes for the year 1906, amounting to $225.00, and delinquent tax collector's commission, and that the Bureau of Water Assessment be directed to exonerate the said Hunt Armory Association (Battery B, tenants) from the payment of water taxes for the year 1907, amounting to $55.00, and to place the said property on the exempt list in the future, to be assessed the sum of one dollar ($1.00) per annum.

Was read.

And on the question, "Shall the resolution become a law, notwithstanding the objections of the Mayor,"

The ayes and noes were taken agreeably to law, and were:

Ayes—Messrs.

Noes—20

And there not being three-fifths of the votes of Select Council in the affirmative, the objections of the Mayor were sustained.

Also

Resolved, That the Superintendent of the Bureau of Water Assessment shall be and he is hereby authorized and directed to place on the exempt list for the future, the property of Athalia Daly Home, situated in the Twentieth ward, said property being used for charitable purposes and should be assessed the sum of One ($1.00) dollar per annum for water rent, according to the terms of the ordinance levying taxes and assessing water rents for the fiscal year beginning February 1, 1907.

Mayor's Office, June 22, 1908.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh.

Gentlemen—At No. 12 May Sessions, 1908, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, the qualified voters of Election District No. 5 of Scott Township presented their petition for annexation to this City. Due notice thereof has been given to me as provided by law, and I attach hereto copy of the notice.

Permit me to call your attention to the fact that by the provisions of the Act approved May 28th, 1907—should this District be annexed to the City of Pittsburgh it will have to be erected into a separate and distinct ward.

This matter is submitted to you for your consideration and action. I am,

Very respectfully yours,

GEO. W. GUTHRIE,

Mayor.

In the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County.

In re-annexation of Election District No. 5 of Scott Township to the City of Pittsburgh. No. 12 May Sessions, 1908.

To Hon. Geo. W. Guthrie, Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh.

Pursuant to an order of the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, notice is hereby given you that on the 20th day of May, 1908, at the above number and term, the petition of more than five per centum of the qualified voters of Election District No. 5 of Scott Township, in said County, was presented representing that said Election District is contiguous to the City of Pittsburgh and that the petitioners desire that it may be annexed to and become a part of the said City. Whereupon the Court ordered said petition to be filed, and that notice of the filing thereof be given to the Chief Executive Officer of the City of Pittsburgh, agreeable to the provisions of the Act of Assembly, approved the 28th day of April, A. No. 419.

Pittsburgh, June 22, 1908.

To the President and Members of Select Council of the City of Pittsburgh.

Gentlemen — The Chamber of Commerce of Pittsburgh has been informed that several of the largest National Banks in the City of Pittsburgh have made a proposal to your honorable body to pay 2½ per cent. interest per annum on city funds deposited with them, in view of which fact the Chamber believes that the depositing of city funds in any bank or banks that will pay only 2 per cent. interest would be in violation of sound business principles and contrary to the best interests of the city.

Expressive of the sentiment of the Chamber of Commerce upon the matter of depositories for city funds, we respectfully ask that action on any ordinances now pending in Councils providing for depositories for the funds of the City of Pittsburgh, regulation of deposits therein, and of payment of interest on city deposits, be deferred until further consideration can be given by your honorable body to the Ordinance which has been introduced and is now in Finance Committee of Council, providing that city funds shall be deposited only in National Banks of the City of Pittsburgh having a capital stock and surplus equal to or exceeding $1,500,000.

The Ordinance just referred to has been considered and its provisions generally approved by the Chamber of Commerce, and before any action is taken on any Ordinance relating to this subject of city depositories we respectfully request that the Chamber of Commerce, through its Committee on Municipal Legislation, or other proper committee, be given an opportunity to appear before Finance Committee of your honorable body and be heard.

Yours very respectfully,

LEE F. SMITH,

President.

LOGAN MCKEE,

Secretary.

C. C. No. 675.

June 29, 1908.

To the Committee on Finance:

Gentlemen—I have received an Ordinance, entitled "An Ordinance authorizing and directing the City Controller to set aside from the Contingent Fund the sum of ten thousand dollars for the use of the Sesqui-Centennial Committee," and the questions submitted to me are:

First—Has the city a right to make an appropriation for this purpose under the law?

Second—Is the right lodged in the Special Committee to disburse the money appropriated in this way, or can it be delegated to them by Ordinance?

I have no doubt with respect to the first question.

In the late case of Stegmaier vs. Goeringer, 218 Pa., 499, the Supreme Court said:

"The custom of commemorating important historical, military and civil events is as old as mankind, and at common law the right of municipalities to make appropriations out of public funds for the proper observance of such occasions was recognized for centuries. There is no reason why a municipality, unless restricted by statute, should not be permitted to make reasonable appropriations in order to fitly commemorate public events in which all the citizens thereof are, and should be, interested. The general welfare clause of the Act of May 23rd, 1889, P. L. 277, relating to cities of the third class, instead of limiting the inherent powers of municipalities in this respect, is broad enough to confer the express power to make an appropriation for the commemoration of events of great public interest in such a manner as to promote the general welfare of the city and advance its trade, commerce and manufactures."

The general welfare clause above referred to is precisely the same as the general welfare clause in the Act for the incorporation of cities of the second class.

With respect to the second question, the Ordinance, in its second section, evidently proposes that the making of the contracts and the disbursement of the money shall be by or under the direction of the Special Committee of Councils. I think the Ordinance in this particular is illegal, and, therefore, I would answer the second question in the negative.

In the case above referred to, the Supreme Court, whilst deciding that appropriations may be made for the purpose designated in this Ordinance, added:

"In the exercise of this power the rule should be observed that moneys appropriated for these purposes should be expended under the supervision and direction of the proper officer or department of the city government, and that bills should be presented, vouchers filed and the accounts audited in the same manner as is provided by law for the expenditure of other public funds."

In another place in the opinion the Court also says:

"If it be conceded that the City Councils have power to make an appropriation for the general purpose stated, the moneys so appropriated must be expended and accounted for according to law."

The Act of 1901, Article XV, Section 1, provides:

"No contracts shall be entered into or executed directly by the Councils or any committee thereof."

And the Act provides in the same Article, Section 1, that all contracts relating to city affairs shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, after reasonable notice, and that such contracts shall be let by the Mayor and the head of the proper department, and afterwards the contracts reduced to writing and filed with the Controller and countersigned by him.

Therefore I think that this money can only be expended as other city moneys are expended, viz., through the proper executive officers, and the contracts to be let as in case of other contracts.

Respectfully submitted,

W. B. RODGERS,

City Solicitor.

C. C. No. 676.

July 2, 1908.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

Gentlemen—I have the honor to return herewith, without my approval, Ordinance C. C. No. 621, entitled "An Ordinance authorizing and directing the Mayor to enter into four contracts, one with the Farmers Deposit National Bank, one with the Second National Bank, one with the Columbia National Bank, one with the German National Bank, one with the German National Bank of Allegheny, and one with the Workingmen's Savings and Trust Company."

This Ordinance directs the Mayor to enter into six (6) separate contracts with the banks named, binding the city to deposit its money with them for a period of four (4) years from the first day of February next, they to pay two (2) per cent. interest on all daily balances during said period.

I withhold my approval from this ordinance for various reasons:

First—Before the Ordinance was passed the Bank of Pittsburgh, N. A., the Peoples National Bank, the First National Bank, the Mellon National Bank and the Federal National Bank each and all offered to pay to the city for its deposits interest at the rate of two and one-half (2½) per cent. per annum on the average daily balances, and I have information that other institutions of equal character are willing to pay the same amount.

The five (5) banks which offer two and one-half (2½) per cent. have a united capital and surplus of $19,900,000.00, distributed as follows:

Bank of Pittsburgh, N. A.	$ 5,300,000 00
First National Bank	3,200,000 00
Peoples National Bank	2,800,000 00
Mellon National Bank	6,300,000 00
Federal National Bank	2,300,000 00
	$19,900,000 00

On the other hand, the six (6) banks selected at 2 per cent. have a united capital and surplus of only $16,625,000.00, distributed as follows:

Second National Bank	$ 4,000,000 00
Farmers Deposit National Bank	7,800,000 00
German National Bank (Pittsburgh)	1,200,000 00
Columbia National Bank	1,800,000 00
German National Bank (Allegheny)	1,050,000 00
Workingmen's Savings Bank & Trust Co.	775,000 00
	$16,625,000 00

While, in the selection of city depositories, the first consideration should be safety, it is clearly the duty of the city officials, charged with the responsibility for the city's money, to see that the city shall also receive the full return for its deposits which they are worth.

The institutions which have offered two and one-half (2½) per cent. interest on the average daily deposits are certainly as sound, safe and conservative as those named in the ordinance, and no reason has been suggested which would justify a refusal to accept their offer of two and one-half (2½) per cent. interest in order to make the deposits in the selected banks at two (2) per cent.

The offer of two and one-half (2½) per cent. interest on average daily balances is not an excessive one. The ordinary rate paid by the banks of the city is three (3) per cent. The former City of Allegheny received from two of the banks named in the Ordinance, namely, the German National Bank Allegheny and the Workingmen's Savings and Trust Company interest on its deposits at the rate of 4.01 per cent. from one and 4.02 per cent. from the other, and the County of Allegheny receives interest on its deposits at the rate of 3.95 per cent.

In view of all this I cannot approve the Ordinance requiring the city to deposit its money in certain banks except therefor interest at the rate of two (2) per cent. on average daily balances when it is offered two and one-half (2½) per cent. by equally good banks.

Second—You will observe that the ordinance directs the Mayor to enter a contract to take effect on the first of February, 1909, over seven months after the passage of the ordinance and only two (2) months before the expiration of the term of this council and of my office; and that the contract, if made, will continue over the term of the Mayor to be elected about three weeks after it takes effect and also of the term of all the Com-

Councilmen and the term of over one-half of the Select Council to be elected at the same time. Its effect, therefore, would be to deprive the new Mayor and the new Council, who come into office on the first Monday of April following, of any power to protect the city's interest in a matter of such great importance as the safety of the city's money. They will be deprived of all discretion for the full period of their terms of office.

It is, in my opinion, against public policy that a Mayor and Councils, just before completing the term of their service, should enter into contracts, the effect of which is to deprive the newly elected representatives of the people of all power and discretion in a matter of such vital importance to the city. Certainly it should not be done unless a clear and unavoidable necessity requires it.

It is very questionable whether a contract thus made would be of any validity. The power of Councils to designate the depositories in which the city's money should be deposited vested in them by the provisions of Article VII of the Act approved March 7, 1901, is a legislative power which those bodies should at all times be free to exercise when required for the protection of the interests of the city.

Such a legislative discretion cannot be surrendered by one Council, nor can a subsequent Council be controlled in the exercise of it without a clear grant of the power so to do.

But if the power exists to bind the city by such a contract it cannot be done in the manner proposed.

The making of contracts is an executive, not a legislative, function; and can be exercised only in the manner pointed out by Section 1 of Article XV of the Act approved March 7, 1901, which directs that "all contracts relating to city affairs shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder after reasonable notice."

This provision is mandatory and covers "all contracts relating to city affairs."

Consequently, if such a contract can be made at all, it must be made in accordance with this requirement.

The designation of the city depositories is, as already pointed out, a legislative function to be exercised from time to time as public interest may require; it should not be, even if it can be, surrendered by making a contract seven months in advance of the time for it to become operative, which deprives the city officials for four (4) years of all discretion in a matter of such vital importance as the safety of the city's money.

But, if such a contract is to be made at all, it should be made under the sanction and safeguards which the law casts around the letting of all public contracts.

Third—I would also urge upon you the great importance of providing a larger number of depositories.

The amount of money carried by the city in its depositories has been continually increasing until now it involves a very large sum of money, and the indications are that with the continued growth in population and activity this amount will be continually increasing.

By the failure of the Allegheny National Bank over $1,500,000.00 of the city's money is tied up. Such a large sum of the available money of the city being tied up for an indefinite period will necessarily embarrass any administration, even though the money is ultimately recovered. Prudent regard for the best interest of the city, therefore, requires that the number of the depositories be increased, so that the city will not again be exposed to such a hazard.

Fourth—I also most earnestly protest against an arrangement which would require the City Treasurer to deposit one-third of the city's money in two (2) small banks in the territory formerly embraced in the City of Allegheny, one having a capital and surplus of only $1,050,000.00, and the other of only $775,000.00, and less than the probable amounts to be deposited.

I am of opinion that territorial distribution of the city deposits should not have any influence in the selection of depositories; but, if this is to be given any consideration whatever, it would not justify the deposit of one-third (1-3) of the city's money in Allegheny banks.

Only about one-sixth (1-6) of the money of the city comes from the Allegheny district. Why then should the City Treasurer be compelled to assume the risk and burden of daily sending over to these banks one-third (1-3) of the city's money? And why should the employees and customers of the city residing in the old city be subjected to the inconvenience of collecting their money from the Allegheny banks?

I see no objection to the deposit in safe banks in the Allegheny district of a reasonable portion of the city's money in order to enable persons living there or having their place of business in that district to receive their money conveniently; but it is manifestly unfair, and from a business standpoint improper, to send one-third (1-3) of the city's money over there for deposit.

Certainly if this is done more than one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) of the money so deposited will have to ultimately be brought back to the old city district for distribution.

The injustice of this arrangement is emphasized by the fact already referred to, that these two banks last year voluntarily paid the former City of Allegheny .0401 per cent. and .0402 per cent. interest on its deposits.

In view of all this, I cannot give my approval to this plan.

A business man would not act in this way in dealing with his own money; a trustee who did so with trust funds would be removed from his trust and compelled to make up the difference from his own pocket. Certainly public officers intrusted with public funds should not do with them what a competent business man would not do with his own or what a trustee would not be permitted to do with trust funds. I am,

Very respectfully yours,

Mayor.

July 1, 1908.

To the Select and Common Council of the City of Pittsburgh:

Gentlemen—I have the honor to return herewith, without my approval, Ordinance C. C. No. 337, entitled "An Ordinance authorizing the vacation of a strip of ground on the northerly side of Rose street, from a point 133 feet east of Crawford street to a point 100 feet west of Miller street."

It appears from the records of the Department of Public Works that there never has been opened any public street on the strip of ground described in this Ordinance.

By an Ordinance approved October 31st 1889 (O. B. 7, page 188) Rose street was located over this strip, but by a subsequent Ordinance passed March 22, 1894 (O. B. 9, page 435) the street was relocated, leaving this strip free, and the street was subsequently opened on the new location by an Ordinance approved March 27, 1894 (O. B. 9, page 455).

I am informed that there is some controversy between the property owners as to whether or not there is a private right of way over this strip. Whether or not such a private right of way exists it is impossible for me to say; but if it does exist the city has no power to vacate it by Ordinance.

It has been suggested that the Ordinance should be approved, because it might lead parties interested into a false security concerning the alleged private road. Of course, this appeal is not entitled to consideration. I am,

Very respectfully yours,

July 1, 1908.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

Gentlemen—I have the honor to return herewith, without my approval, Ordinance C. C. No. 569, entitled "An Ordinance authorizing the purchase and taking over from Charles O. Lappe of the water line constructed by him on Denniston avenue between Hastings street and Fair Oaks street, and providing for the issuing of a warrant in payment thereof."

The Ordinance contains the following recital:

"Whereas, By Ordinance of October 4, 1907, Charles O. Lappe under agreement with the Director of the Department of Public Works and under the supervision of that department laid and constructed a water line on Denniston avenue between Hastings street and Fair Oaks street at a cost of four hundred and sixty-five and 41-100, ($465.41) dollars, which sum under the provisions of the said Ordinance was to be repaid to the said C. O. Lappe out of the appropriation made for the year beginning February 1, 1908, therefor."

This is a mistake.

The agreement made between the city and Charles O. Lappe was made under an Ordinance approved October 4th, 1907, which did not bind the city to take over and pay for the pipe line laid by him, but simply reserved to the city the right "at any time in the future it may see fit so to do" to take over the pipe for public use on payment of the cost.

There has been no appropriation made for the payment of the cost of this pipe line which was laid by Mr. Lappe for the benefit of his own property, and there is no fund provided for the payment of the cost of the purchase.

There being no appropriation specified in the Ordinance for the payment of this money, and no appropriation out of which it can be paid, the Ordinance cannot take effect. I am,

The Chair presented

No. 452.

July 1, 1908.

To the Select and Common Council of the City of Pittsburgh.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to return herewith, without my approval, Ordinance S. C. No. 283, entitled, "An Ordinance authorizing the widening of Jay street from the easterly line of J. A. Myler property to Henderson street to a width of 40 feet and the assessment of damages caused by the grade of same."

This ordinance was passed under the Act of 1895 without a petition from the property owners. It provides for the widening of Jay street from 20 to 40 feet by taking the whole additional width from the property owners on the north side of the street.

Remonstrances have been filed with me by property owners and by several citizens of the North Side familiar with the facts and who support this contention.

As laid out the widening of this street is strictly a local improvement; the chief and only benefit from which will be to the property of J. A. Myler, at the easterly line of which it stops.

The lots from which the 20 feet are taken are very shallow and, in my opinion, their value and the value of the improvement will be practically destroyed by the widening.

As there is no property along the line of the improvement to be benefitted by it the whole of the cost of damage and expense will have to be assessed on and paid by the City.

Whatever benefit is to be derived from the widening of this street, seems to me to be entirely local, and it should not therefore, be made in such a way as to throw the whole cost on the City, thereby relieving from any share of the expense the property for whose benefit it is intended.

If the street is extended through the J. A. Myler property, the owners of that property can have it opened and widened in the regular way on petition. By doing so they will have to pay their share of the cost, instead of the whole of it being thrown on the City as will be done under this proceeding. I am,

Very respectfully yours,

GEO. W. GUTHRIE,

Mayor.

Also

C. C. No. 708.

July 2, 1908.

the Select and Common Council of the City of Pittsburgh.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to return herewith, without my approval Ordinance C. C. No. 273, authorizing a warrant in favor of the Trustees of the Synod of Reformed Presbyterian Church for $600.00, assessment for damages for grading Burgess street; Ordinance C. C. No. 482, authorizing a warrant in favor of the pastor of St. Stephen's Roman Catholic Church for $2,372.94, assessment for the improvement of Elizabeth street, and C. C. No. 509, authorizing a warrant in favor of Marshall N. White, clerk, and Harry D. Wolf, messenger of Councils in the former City of Allegheny in payment of salaries for the month of April and May.

The City Solicitor is of the opinion that all these ordinances are illegal; they are fully covered by opinions rendered in other cases and which have been sustained by your bodies.

Property owners assessed for damages for street improvements have an opportunity to appeal to Court, and the decision of the Court as to their liability is conclusive on them as well as on the City.

The assessments against the Reformed Presbyterian Church and against St. Stephen's Roman Catholic Church having been confirmed by Court and the money paid to the City Treasury, the City has no right to return the same.

The positions formerly held by White and Wolf having been abolished by law, and no appropriation having been made for their salaries, the City has no right now to pay them for services not rendered. I am,

Very respectfully yours,

GEO. W. GUTHRIE,

Mayor.

In Common Council July 13th, 1908.

Mr. Burns, before voting, arose and said:

"I believe that if this resolution was passed over the Mayor's veto, it would be illegal any way. The Mayor and the City Solicitor claim these people would have to go into court in order to get this money back, and I would rather be one to help defray the expenses incurred by proceedings in court rather than to override the veto of the Mayor, and I therefore vote 'No.'"

Mr. Sweeney, before voting, arose and said:

"I want to explain my vote. I understand that for years and years it has been the custom to exonerate churches from street improvements. Mr. Burns, not so long ago, voted to pass a resolution over the Mayor's veto, when the city solicitor advised against it, and I don't see why we cannot override the veto at this time. I therefore vote 'Aye.'"

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

George W. Guthrie, Mayor.

August 20th, 1908.

To the Select and Common Council of the City of Pittsburgh.

Gentlemen:—

I have the honor to transmit herewith, for your information and guidance, letter received August 19th, 1908, from Hon. Samuel E. Dixon, Commissioner of Health, Harrisburg, Pa.

I am, Very respectfully,

GEO. W. GUTHRIE,

Mayor.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH.

To the Honorable Mayor and City Councils, of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, Pennsylvania.

I, Samuel G. Dixon, Commissioner of Health, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby approve plans for the construction of ten additional water filters at the city's filtration works near Aspinwall and do hereby given general approval to the entire water works system for the enlarged city of Pittsburgh and issue a permit for such additional water filters and for general extensions to the water works system in response to plans duly filed by said city on July twenty-first, nineteen hundred and eight and a written statement supplementary thereto, under the following conditions and stipulations.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

The territory comprising the Greater Pittsburgh district as incorporated in one municipality, now concludes "Old Pittsburgh" or all the land lying east of the confluence of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers between the former to the north and the latter on the south for a distance of about seven miles in which reside approximately three hundred thousand people; also the "South Side" or the land along the south bank of the Monongahela River opposite Pittsburgh proper, a stretch of four miles westerly along the south bank of the Ohio River for two and a half miles in which reside approximately one hundred thousand people; and also the "North Side" or all the land on the north bank of the Allegheny opposite old Pittsburgh, a stretch of about three miles, and westerly along the north branch of the Ohio for about three miles, formerly the City of Allegheny, in which reside approximately one hundred fifty thousand people.

Beyond the site as described, there are in the immediate vicinity many municipalities which are costly allied with Pittsburgh. Numerous territorial accessions by annexation have been made to Pittsburgh in the past. It was under the provision of Act number one hundred sixty-one, approved April Twentieth, nineteen hundred and five, providing "that where two cities are contiguous and in the same county, the smaller may be annexed to the larger," that Allegheny City was absorbed.

The annexation idea is predominant, and this tendency is of more than passing import.

Ranking fifth among the cities of the United States in commercial and industrial importance—because it is the port of entry and transfer between the east and west, and because it is the largest shipping point for bituminous coal and because it has the natural fuel supply of coal, coke and gas and the climate to foster enterprise—no period of its expansion has been more promising than the present. Local problems pertaining to public water supply may with peculiar reason be contemplated in relation to probable consolidation.

The past conditions of growth offer a partial explanation of the different independent water works systems found existing within the municipal territory of Pittsburgh to-day.

In old Pittsburgh, comprising wards one to twenty-three, inclusive, Brushton Borough, now Thirty-seventh ward, and Sterrett Township, now Forty-first ward, there are two systems, one owned by the municipality and the other owned by a private corporation named the Pennsylvania Water Company, authorized to supply water to the public in said borough and township prior to their annexations to the city.

In the "South Side" the water is furnished by two private corporations; one being the Monongahela Water Company, supplying wards Twenty-three to Thirty-five, inclusive, and the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth wards—formerly Elliott and Essen boroughs—and the other being the South Pittsburgh Water Company, supplying wards Thirty-eight, Forty-two, Forty-three and Forty-four, formerly Pittsburgh, Montooth, Sheraden and West Liberty boroughs, respectively.

The old City of Allegheny, now the North Side, has its own system.

OLD PITTSBURGH WATER SUPPLY.

Taking up each system in the order named, with respect to the old Pittsburgh water supply, it is noted that the topography in the city proper is so uneven, elevations ranging over five hundred feet, that distinct systems of distribution have resulted. However, all water is primarily lifted into the Highland Park reservoirs from the Brilliant Pumping Station. This plant is located on the south bank of the Allegheny about six miles above the mouth of the river. Formerly the water was drawn directly from the river at this point; now it arrives at the station through pipes connected to the water purification plant located on the opposite bank in O'Hara Township.

No emergency intake is provided at the Brilliant station, whereby raw river water may be admitted to the system.

The engines comprise four fifteen million gallon pumps, four twelve million gallon pumps and two ten million gallon pumps, equivalent to a combined capacity of one hundred and twenty-eight million gallons per twenty-four hours. Since the maximum daily pumpage is eighty-three million gallons the reserve of forty-five million gallons is an apparent large margin. The effective margin, taking into account contemplated improvements and additions to the system, is nearer thirty million gallons. The engine room floor is above freshet line, but the boilers are in danger of being put out of commission by an extraordinary flood. Some corrective measures are planned, and they are to be applied at an early date.

Highland Reservoir number one has a storage capacity of one hundred and eighteen million gallons. Reservoir number two had a capacity of one hundred and twenty million gallons; the latter is ninety-one feet lower in elevation. Both are on the hill back from and near the pump house. Both are interchangeable and both may be cut off and the supply be pumped directly into town.

River mud at times is excessive. A large proportion of the heavier sediment has in the past been deposited in the reservoir. Some of the fine material found its way on into the street mains. Now that filtered water is being furnished, the city is engaged in cleaning out the service pipes and the reservoir, preparatory to keeping them in such condition.

The distribution districts are divided into a low, high and extra high service.

The low service is a gravity supply from reservoir number two, but in emergencies or at choice it may be connected to reservoir number one. This territory comprises all the lower portion of the city bordering on the Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers—a strip not over one-half mile wide at any place. It includes the manufacturing, mercantile and downtown shopping districts. Probably one hundred and ten thousand people are served.

The high service, comprising an extensive area with a resident population of ninety thousand people, is supplied by gravity from Highland reservoir number one. The district includes the lands too elevated to be properly reached by the low service.

The extra high service is furnished by water pumped from the high service mains into reservoirs and tanks located at such points and elevations as to serve districts above the reach of the high service system. There are four such services named in order of importance—Herron, Bedford, Garfield and Lincoln.

A thirty-inch main from reservoir number one feeds the Herron pump station at the corner of Center avenue and Craig street, in the central part of the city, near Schenley Park. From this point the supply is pumped into the reservoir on Herron Hill, not far distant, and also by a separate main into the reservoir on Bedford Hill, near the downtown district. The latter basin holds two and a quarter million gallons and supplies a mercantile district of about twenty-seven thousand population. The former holds eight million gallons and supplies a large residential area of about forty-seven thousand population.

The Garfield tanks are of steel construction, hold five hundred thousand gallons and supply about ten thousand people resident near Highland Park. The pumping station is at the corner of Dearborn and Pacific streets.

The Lincoln tanks hold two hundred and fifty thousand gallons; they are on the hillside near the east city line. The pump house is located on the corner of Park avenue and Dean street. There are resident in the district ten thousand people.

About seventy million gallons is the present average daily pumpage at the Brilliant Station.

PENNSYLVANIA WATER COMPANY.

The population within the city supplied by the Pennsylvania Water Company is about eleven thousand. All service connections are metered, and the estimated consumption is about forty gallons per capita. On the municipal system it is between two hundred and thirty and two hundred and sixty gallons.

The company was chartered in eighteen hundred and eighty-seven to supply water in the township of Sterrett, out of which the Thirty-seventh ward, formerly Brushton borough, and the Forty-first ward were made. The plant supplies Wilkesburg and other places as far south as North Braddock. In eighteen hundred and ninety-nine the Pennsylvania Water Company purchased the works of the Turtle Creek Valley Water Company, built to supply the boroughs in the Turtle Creek valley and then known as the East Pittsburgh Water Company. The whole territory is now supplied from the pumping station of the Pennsylvania Water Company on the Allegheny River at Nadine. This point is about two miles above the Brilliant Pumping Station.

The water is taken from three filter cribs built three feet below the bottom of the river bed.

Crib number one is three hundred and eight feet long by thirty-three feet wide by five feet deep. It is covered with gravel and sand.

Cribs numbers two and three are each four hundred and eight feet long by forty-eight feet wide by five feet deep, built in the same way—corn-crib fashion.

From number one crib a twenty-four inch cast iron pipe is laid below the bed of the river to a manhole on the south bank of river. From cribs numbers two and three a forty-two inch cast iron pipe is laid below the bed of the river to same manhole; thence to the pump there is six-foot tunnel. The bottom of the river over the cribs is not allowed to silt up. This is prevented by dragging over it rake made of pipe from which water is discharged in small jets under pressure of one hundred pounds per square inch. The observed reduction of bacteria in water pumped compared to the raw water is between ninety and ninety-nine per cent., when the cribs are in working order. Occasionally the cribs fall off in efficiency.

One ten million gallon and one six million gallon pumping engine raise the water to a reservoir of six million gallons capacity, located on high ground back of the station and distant therefrom five thousand feet. About twenty-three thousand feet from reservoir number one is reservoir number two, which holds twelve million gallons. They are connected by a forty-two inch pipe. The portion of the city noted is supplied principally from reservoir number one, but ward Thirty-seventh may be supplied directly from reservoir number two.

The water furnished by the Pennsylvania Water Company is usually clear. It was generally superior in quality to that furnished by the city prior to the starting up of the Aspinwall filters.

MONONGAHELA WATER COMPANY

As stated above, the "South Side," excepting wards Thirty-eight, Forty-three and Forty-four, is supplied by the Monongahela Water Company. To meet the conditions imposed by local topography, three services with reservoirs and tanks at different elevations have been installed by the Company. They comprise the low district, the Allentown high district and the Esplan district.

The larger part of the supply is pumped from the Monongahela river, the main pumping station situated on the river from at the foot of Twenty-ninth street. The water is raised in the Birmingham settling basins, one brick lined structures built in the hillside at the head of Thirty-first street at the elevation of about two hundred feet above the river. These basins have a total capacity of three million gallons and from them the water flows by gravity to the low service area lying between the foothills and the river.

The intake is a thirty-six inch pipe run out to the middle of the stream. There is a screen on the end of it. The power plant is subject to inundation. The pumps are not in first-class order. There are five of them, one being one million, two being ten million and being five million gallons capacity. The latter raise water five hundred ninety-eight feet high through a two inch line into three settling basins, sixty feet in diameter by forty feet high, located in the Twenty-seventh ward, the highest ground available in the downtown district. Thirty-eight thousand people reside in the hill area. Twenty-seven, Thirty-one, Thirty-three and Thirty-five—served by these tanks.

A sub-station, of not much account, at the Birmingham basins is maintained in reserve to pump water through a ten-inch pipe and by a cross connection into the twenty-inch line to the tanks.

The Allentown and the low service areas, comprising wards Twenty-four to Thirty-five, inclusive, and ward Thirty-six in the Esplan territory, constitute the "Old District" of the "South Side." Eighty-three thousand people are now resident therein. The daily consumption, excepting the Thirty-sixth ward, approximates twelve million gallons, and the water is delivered through ninety miles of street mains. These mains are known to be clogged with mud deposit.

The new Esplan plant was built by the Monongahela Water Company and put in service in eighteen hundred and ninety-five. It is now operated in conjunction with the "Old district" works. Besides ward Thirty-six it includes the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth wards (formerly Elliott and Esplan Boroughs) and outside of the city, part of the borough of McKees Rocks and parts of Chartiers and Stowe Townships.

The water is pumped from the Ohio River at a point opposite Bruno's Island. There are two filter cribs here sunk in the river bed, from each of which a twenty-four inch supply pipe leads to wells in the station. There are also fourteen twelve-inch drilled wells, each about fifty feet deep, from which water is drawn. The supply is lifted by two pumping engines, each three million gallons capacity, a vertical height of four hundred and twenty-five feet to two steel tanks, each fifty feet in diameter and seventy feet high, located on Sheraden Hill, from whence the discharge is by gravity to the district. Ward Thirty-six contains about four thousand people.

The superiority of the plants under municipal control in Pittsburgh proper, as compared with private ownership on the "South Side," above described, is particularly conspicuous in every detail of design, management and maintenance, and is one reason for popular sentiment favorable to city ownership.

In December, nineteen hundred and six, the city petitioned for appraisement of the value of the plant and property of the Monongahela Water Company lying in wards Twenty-four to Thirty-six, inclusive, since these were the city limits in eighteen hundred and eighty-five, when an agreement was entered into between the city and the water company, whereby the latter obtained an exclusive franchise for twenty-one years to the said territory of thirteen wards.

The Company does not now own any pipes outside of the Twenty-fourth and Thirty-sixth wards, inclusive, excepting the pipe system connected with the Esplan plant, which lies largely outside the limits of the city. All others were purchased by the Chartiers Valley Water Company in eighteen hundred and ninety-six.

So the Monongahela Water Company will continue to exercise its franchise outside the "Old District," but still within Pittsburgh's limits, subsequent to any purchase of the "Old District" plant by the city.

In fixing upon a fair value for the plant to be purchased the water company's experts have frankly admitted that improvements are advisable and necessary and would be made by any private individual accustomed to successful management of water works property. The quality of the water must be improved by filtration. The company's plans proposed as a basis for estimation of cost of giving good service is to locate a fifteen million gallon filter plant at the Birmingham reservoir; build settling basins of approved type out of one of the existing basins and use the other to store filtered water; erect two new vertical pumps at the Twenty-ninth street station to pump all the water needed from the river to the settling basins; provide a return pipe to remodelled high district pumps for delivery of filtered water to the Allentown tanks; build a new pump house and plant at the reservoir; raise up and alter the main station; clean out all street pipes, rebuild intakes, and, in fact, revamp the entire system to secure an up-to-date service.

At the present time there is no competition whatever in the supply of water in the district. There is a contract existing between the Monongahela Water Company and the South Pittsburgh Water Company, the only other concern supplying water to adjacent territory, whereby these two companies refrain from entering into competition. This should operate to the benefit of the service at once in the Esplan district and also in the thirteen wards, in event of failure of the city to acquire the latter works.

It is the city's plan to supply filtered water should the "South Side" plant come under municipal control. The obligation of the water company is equally great at all times to supply a pure water at reasonable rates, subject to the regulation of the court.

SOUTH PITTSBURGH WATER COMPANY.

The South Pittsburgh water plant comprises a pumping station on the Monongahela River at Beck's Run, about one mile up stream from the Twenty-ninth street station of the Monongahela Water Company; buried filter crib in the river bed and two auxiliary pipe lines leading directly from the stream into the pump well; a mechanical filter plant, including settling tanks, filters, clear water basin, chemical laboratories and all appurtenances of latest and most approved pattern; three five million gallon service pumps at the filter plant to raise the water into a steel tank on the hill in Mt. Oliver borough, and a system of distributing mains reaching a large population in the municipalities bordering the Pittsburgh boundary and in the townships beyond. It also serves the four hill wards of the city above mentioned. The works are managed with exemplary care under skilled direction. The water is clear and pure and the service is eminently satisfactory. This feature has materially aided in the building up of the district. A contract exists between the city and the company for fire hydrant service. All the territory covered by this water company and by the Pennsylvania Water Company will in likelihood be annexed to Pittsburgh, and following there is likely to be agitation for municipal control of the water works. Naturally city ownership would effect alterations in methods of distribution. Such possibility need only be thought of in considering the present question of supplying filtered water to the North and South Sides of Pittsburgh at present incorporated.

ALLEGHENY CITY.

The "North Side," formerly Allegheny City, is supplied entirely from water works owned and operated by the municipality, and, like other parts of Pittsburgh, the topography is irregular, ranging six hundred feet or more in elevation, so that there are several systems of distribution.

The supply is taken from the Allegheny river at two points. At Montrose village, in O'Hara Township, opposite Verona, nine and a half miles up stream, is the principal pumping station. An auxiliary plant called the River Avenue station is in the eastern part of the North Side, at the site of the original pump house built in eighteen hundred and forty-nine.

Montrose intake has a timber crib twenty-five hundred feet long by thirty-two feet wide by seven feet deep, placed in a ten-inch excavation in the river bottom. It is planked on top and covered with gravel to original surface of the channel, and its sides are rippapped filling. Difficulty has been experienced in keeping the structure open to admit of the passage of water. The sides have been dredged out for this purpose, but they fill up again. So far as keeping out silt from the pump chambers or clarifying the river water goes, the crib may as well be out of commission.

There are two fifteen million gallon triple expansion pumping engines and three twelve million gallon cross compound pumping engines in the station. They raise about forty million gallons of water daily a vertical height of two hundred and forty-seven feet through a sixty-inch steel force main nine and a half miles long to Troy Hill reservoir, where the water is delivered directly into the low service district without going into the reservoir. The surplus overflows into duplicate basins at said reservoir. The two large pumps are new. They are put in final commission early in the current year. Now all the supply is pumped at the Montrose station; but prior to nineteen hundred and seven for ten years or so about one-third of the water supply was drawn from the river at the River Avenue station. Steam in one battery of boilers is still kept up at this old station in readiness for use during emergencies.

Here the intakes are two twenty-four inch and one thirty-six inch pipes. They extend down stream for fifty-six feet and are perforated with one-inch holes. The plant is subject to possible interruption of service at times of extreme high water. A combined rated capacity of thirty-three million gallons is afforded by the five pumps. They are in poor condition. The water is raised into Troy Hill reservoir nearby.

The Troy Hill reservoir holds seven million five hundred thousand gallons. It is of earth bank construction, concrete lined and paved with brick. A wall divided the reservoir into two basins of about equal capacity. Each is in poor condition, especially at the frost line.

From Troy Hill reservoir the water was formerly furnished by gravity to the low service district, comprising a belt of varying width extending nearly the whole length of the river front. The section includes all the manufacturing and commercial districts and covers an area of about two and a half square miles. The population served approximates ninety-five thousand people. But not only the several distinct high services draw water from the basins. A thirty-inch and a sixteen-inch gravity main extends northeast about a mile to the Howard Street pumping station, which is located at the corner of Howard and Rising Main streets. Here five pumping engines raise the water into tanks in districts B, C and D. Each tank is forty feet in diameter and twenty-two feet high.

There is one eight million and one five million triple expansion pumping engine and one three million and two million five hundred thousand gallon pumping engines of the combined duplex type in the station.

A twenty-four inch main leads to two tanks on Nunnery Hill nearby. They are elevated two hundred and eighty-eight feet above the Troy Hill reservoir. From them a residential area of one square mile, lying directly north of the low service district and comprising twenty thousand people, is supplied by a gravity flow. This is high service district B.

A separate twenty-four inch force main also leads to two tanks located eighty-five feet higher on Nunnery Hill which feed district C, an area of two and seven-tenths square miles, extending to the northerly city boundary and containing an approximate population of twenty thousand people.

An irregular shaped area of one and two-tenths square miles adjacent to the eastern boundary of the city, containing a population of about ten thousand people, comprises high service district D. It is fed from two tanks on Spring Hill. A sixteen-inch force main from the Howard street station delivers the water into these tanks. They are elevated about three hundred and sixty-nine feet above the Troy Hill reservoir.

In district C at the city line is Grant Tree Hill, the highest land in Allegheny County. On this eminence are two tanks supplied with water from an auxiliary pumping station on Broadway.

tanks feed a local extra high area of about two-tenths square miles. The pumps are electrically driven and have a capacity of one million gallons each. The consumption is small.

At the Troy Hill reservoir is a pumping station containing two pumps, rated capacity one million gallons each, which supply by direct pressure a district of about three-tenths square miles on the hill land in the vicinity.

The investigator must be struck with the lack in the water works of opportunity for sedimentation. Troy Hill reservoir has too little capacity to assure the removal of silt. Water of the quality of the Allegheny River, if delivered into the system without sedimentation or purification, is bound to clog up the pipes and house connections and reduce the efficiency of the works, and hence increase the cost of operation and maintenance. These matters are indirectly prejudicial to public health.

WATER PURIFICATION PLANT.

Plans for a complete water purification plant large enough to furnish all of the City of Pittsburgh, including the South Side, with pure water were adopted and construction work begun in nineteen hundred and five.

Opposite the Brilliant Pumping Station and just above it on the north bank of the river is a level plateau over a mile long and about half mile wide, whose elevation is higher than the highest freshet ever recorded. Here a slow-sand filtration plant has been erected, consisting of a pumping station, sedimentation basins, forty-six acres of covered filter beds, each an acre in area, covered filtered water basin and gravity supply mains under the river to the pump wells in the Brilliant station. The net daily capacity of the filters is one hundred million gallons, based on a maximum rate of filtration of three million gallons per acre per twenty-four hours, making allowance for cleaning and other operation. The works were designed for future additions, space having been reserved therefor in the eastern portion of the tract owned by the city.

The site is in O'Hara Township, bounded on the west by Aspinwall Borough. At the upper end of the said tract are the new intakes and pumping station called Ross Station. The capacity is between one hundred and forty million and one hundred and eighty million gallons per twenty-four hours, dependent on the height of river water. These engines raise the raw river water into the central receiving basin, capacity twenty million gallons, on either side of which are larger sedimentation basins, capacity of sixty million gallons each, from which the water passes to the filters.

The heavier suspended matters deposit in the primary receiving basin. All three basins are designed to drain pumps leading to the drainage system of the plant.

The conduits carrying the settled water from the basins lead to the central gate chamber at the primary receiving basin. The operation of the entire plant is controlled and directed at the Administration building, erected over the central gate chamber. Here are the offices, room, operating mechanism and bacteriological and chemical laboratories.

The sedimentation basins are at the foot of the hill. The filters lie between them and Freeport road and the tracks of the West Penn division of the Pennsylvania Railroad near the river bank.

Passing through the site of the filters is a right-of-way in which the sixty-inch Montrose Station force main to the Troy Hill reservoir extends. This strip, sixteen feet wide, is laid out as a driveway and divided the filter layout into north and south parts, three rows of filters being in each part. The distribution and collection system of pipes run at right angles to this driveway. The pipes are housed in covered galleries thirty-one feet wide in the clear placed between alternate rows of filters. There are four of them, each about one thousand feet long, including the north and south part, and they contain all auxiliary apparatus and machinery for scraping, washing and restoring sand.

There is a fan heating and ventilating system in each gallery to maintain a uniform temperature; also an attendant's room. A toilet room and locker and lunch room are provided in each half gallery. The floors of all these places are made tight and arranged for ready cleaning.

Two sand-washing tanks of concrete are placed in each half gallery. The flow of dirty water from the outlet weir of these washers passes directly into the drain. All the drainage is intercepted by a large main trunk drain along Freeport road, which empties into the river opposite gallery number one.

Adequate facilities for the treatment and disposal of the sewage created at the water filtration plant have been provided. Approval according to law was given in a permit issued by the Commissioner of Health under date of April twenty-ninth, nineteen hundred and seven.

The filter beds have groined arched concrete floors and covers. The latter are carried on concrete piers fourteen feet on centers. The grave underdrains total one foot in thickness, the sizes ranging from five to one and a half inches in diameter. The sand layer is between two and four feet deep. The underdrainage system consists of a concrete main collector extending the length of the filter in the longitudinal center and a lateral drain six to eighteen inches in diameter, in each transverse bay connects to this main collector. The latter has pipe connection to its corresponding regulating chamber located in the gallery.

An automatic recording page, indicating the rate of filtration, loss of head and the depth of water over the sand, is supplied for each filter. The facilities for back-flooding the beds and for draining them and for the ordinary feed are ample. Sand scraping and sand restoring machinery are used. However, the design permits of this work being done by hand were it necessary for any reason.

The filtered water conduit in each gallery connects with the main conduit ten feet four inches in diameter, extending to the filtered water reservoir. This structure is built of concrete groin arched, width at one end two hundred and ninety-four feet, with a total length between the ends of eleven hundred and ninety-four feet and holding forty-two million gallons. The roof is supported by piers twenty-one and five-tenths feet high, spaced eighteen feet apart on centers. The up-stream end is in line with the down-stream gallery of the filters.

The river side of the reservoir is nearly parallel and one hundred and twenty feet from the harbor line. Here an embankment has been filled in on a slope of two to one. The slope is protected up to the elevation of extreme floods with a heavy concrete revetment. A level berm twenty to forty feet in width is carried back from the top of the revetment to a second slope rising to the level of the filling over the reservoir roof. Tile drainage and puddle cover have been provided to prevent percolation of surface waters into the filtered water basin.

There is an inlet and outlet chamber at the reservoir. A eighty-four inch bypass laid on the reservoir floor connects the two. The inflow may be measured by weir apparatus. The outflow is through two seventy-two inch pipes laid under the river to the pumping station at Brilliant. A place for a third seventy-two inch pipe has been left. A venturi meter is set up in each seventy-two inch pipe. This is the last of four measuring stations by which the quality of water flowing from various parts of the plant may be observed and loss located.

In connection with distributing the filtered water a fifty-inch pipe line has been laid from Highland Reservoir to a point on the north side of the Monongahela river, a distance of about five miles, and thence under the river by a thirty-six inch pipe, to supply the "South Side." The thirty-six inch main connects at the Twenty-ninth street with the system of the Monongahela Water Company, but water is not furnished, but might be in an emergency.

The general idea of the landscape treatment of the entire water filter layout is to isolate the site from surroundings by hedges and seed down the entire enclosure, lay out drives around and by the sedimentation basins, pump house and filters, and reduce the formality of the view by shrubbery and small trees along the drives.

Three filters were put in commission in December last, seven in January, eight in March, six in April and three in May, and now there are altogether thirty-nine units operated. They are distributed along each of the four galleries. All of the water delivered through the Brilliant Pumping Station, as previously stated, comes from the purification plant; but not all is filtered. Only forty-one million gallons daily pass through the sand beds. The balance to make up the seventy million gallons daily consumption, more or less, in Pittsburgh is water settled in the sedimentation basins. The two waters are mixed, since there is no way of keeping them separated.

If the thirty-nine filters were operated at their normal capacity all of the seventy million gallons would be filtered. This result is to be accomplished as soon as possible. Fifteen men are now engaged in the operating galleries. They are distributed as follows: Two filter attendants for four galleries, two laborers for four galleries, one filter foreman. This makes a force of five men for four galleries for each shift of eight hours, or fifteen men for each twenty-four hours. An additional filter attendant and an additional filter laborer for each shift is to be put on. This will make twenty-seven men for each twenty-four hours, instead of fifteen men. With this force the higher rates are to be attained as soon as possible without jeopardizing the entire plant.

In the cleaning operation there are now employed four machine operators, four filter laborers, two washer attendants and one machinist. This force is to be doubled. It has been found necessary to do this to successfully work all the filters. Without adequate cleaning force, if the beds were run to their full capacity, it would tie up the entire plant. The unusually high turbidity of the Allegheny River this summer has retarded the development of the filters to their maximum efficiency.

In the laboratory work, whose results give the important index of necessary corrective measures in daily and hourly operation, there are now employed one analyst in charge, one assistant chemist, two laboratory assistants, two sample collectors and one laborer. Other help will be employed as required.

PROPOSED ADDITIONS.

The city asks approval of plans for the erection of ten additional filter units of the same size and form of construction as the existing filters, to be located upstream on the land belonging to the city and reserved for this purpose.

The annexation of Allegheny City has extended the territory and usefulness of the filtration works. The present plant has a maximum capacity of one hundred million gallons. The greatest consumption in Pittsburgh as recorded is eighty-three million gallons. The Monongahela Water Company's district, if supplied by the city, will call for twelve million additional gallons of filtered water, making a total of ninety-five million gallons needed.

The "North Side" consumption is forty million gallons daily; so it is evident that ten additional units are not too many. It is understood, however, that experiments with preliminary treatment are now in progress as a basis design for materially increasing the capacity of the existing sand beds. A study of preliminary treatment is heartily recommended. The State Department of Health will be glad to vorably consider any well-conceived method, thoroughly tested, with special reference to adaptability to local conditions.

The exigencies of the case, however, warrant no delay in providing for additional capacity, and the plans proposed for ten filters should be executed at once.

The city also proposes, as soon as money therefor shall have been provided, to add low service pumping machinery to the Ross Pumping Station and to build and equip a new high service pumping station at Aspinwall, for the purpose of delivering filtered water into the Allegheny mains; and when this has been done to abandon the old River Avenue Pumping Station and also the Montrose Pumping Station.

Further, it is contemplated to build a reservoir of about one hundred million gallons capacity somewhere along the pipeline route to Allegheny.

Still further, in connection with the furnishing of filtered water to the "South Side," when the city takes over the works of the Monongahela Water Company, it proposes to abandon the use of the low service pumps at the Twenty-ninth street station at once, and to deliver filtered water into the district mains. The filtered water supply will be lifted by the high service pumps at this station to the Allentown tanks, pending the building and equipment of new high service pumps and their installation in a new house to be erected at a site free from inundations or floods. Upon completion of this work the Twenty-ninth street station will be entirely abandoned.

DISCUSSION.

The policy of the State in subserving the interests of public health bears a peculiar relationship to the endeavors of the authorities of Pittsburgh along the same lines. The sewages of the municipalities situated on the banks of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers above Pittsburgh pollute to a very considerable and dangerous degree the waters which are the sources of supply to all the districts hereinbefore described. Even the city's own sewage pollutes the water which passes over or by the intakes of the River avenue, Twenty-ninth street, and Explan pumping stations. To these facts have been attributed rightfully a considerable proportion of the typhoid fever cases and deaths of Allegheny County.

A circuit between the city, its environments and the country beyond its extent, no doubt, whereby infection is transmitted back and forth through the medium of water, milk and food stuffs. This circuit can only be cut when all of the drinking water in the city is pure water.

A compulsory proper disposal of household wastes of a poisonous nature at the farms and in villages is going along under State direction; but the compulsory discontinuance of the discharge of municipal sewage into the city's drinking water must necessarily require a long term of years for accomplishment. Meantime, the people must have pure water, and there is one law for all water works, whether owned and operated by private or municipal corporation. The Pennsylvania Water Company now has pending before the State Department of Health for approval plans for improving its water supply which have a relation to the future development of the municipal system. The Monongahela Water Company, held up for the time being in making improvements, by the probability of having its plant partly taken away, must also provide adequate works to purify the water supply to its consumers, and a decree to this effect will be issued.

CONCLUSION.

In view of the foregoing consideration, I have determined that the existing city water works will not be prejudicial to public health under certain conditions, and do hereby and herein approve the same and grant a permit for the proposed extensions, alterations and improvements under the following conditions and stipulations:

First. That this permit shall relate only to the water works now owned and operated or that may be owned and operated by the City between the territory now comprised within the boundaries of the City of Pittsburgh as incorporated August first, nineteen hundred and eight. The acquirement of water works or extensions of water works by the City into an area beyond the said municipality territory of August first, nineteen hundred and eight, shall be made under the provisions of law requiring a written permit by the Commissioner of Health.

Second. That the City shall immediately upon its acquirement of the Monongahela Water Company's plant in the thirteen wards fully inform the Commissioner of Health of the fact of the nature and terms of the agreement between the city and the water company and the extent of the plant as acquired, more particularly in its bearing to any remaining property or works of the said water company within the city limits, and similar information shall be given with regards to any acquirement of the Pennsylvania Water Company's plant in part by the City.

Third. That monthly reports of the operation of the water purification plant and of the water works system shall be filed in the office of the Commissioner of Health on forms satisfactorily to said Commissioner. At the close of each season's work the city shall file satisfactory plans showing all additions, extensions and changes in the water works system made during the year, together with any other information in connection therewith that may be required.

Fourth. That the city shall not later than December 1st, nineteen hundred and eleven, supply the "North Side" and the "South Side" and the old city proper with filtered water and filtered water only. Provided, however, that if the Monongahela Water Company should not be acquired by the city then, in that event, the State Board of Health will require the said water company to filter the water supplied to all its consumers. And on or before December first, nineteen hundred and eleven (1911), the abandonment of the Montrose and River avenue pumping stations shall have been accomplished, and also the Twenty-ninth street station, if this latter property shall have been acquired by the city in time to admit of the changes in plans herein approved relative thereto being made, otherwise a reasonable extension of time will be granted by the Commissioner of Health. It is the intent of this permit to bring about at the earliest practicable moment the elimination from the water works system of all emergency and other intakes, whereby raw river water may be introduced into the distributing system.

Fifth. That since greater filter capacity than that now possessed at the Aspinwall plant, together with the ten additional filter units, is requisite to the furnishing of the entire city with filtered water, it is stipulated that tests of the preliminary treatment of the Allegheny River water shall be conducted by the city preparatory to the adoption of the best treatment, and that prior to installation of any permanent method the plans therefor, together with the test showing the adaptability of the process, shall be submitted to the Commissioner of Health for approval.

Sixth. If at any time it shall appear that the water works system, or any part thereof, or the water supplied to the public thereby is prejudicial to public health, then such remedial measures shall be adopted forthwith as the Commissioner of Health may approve or advise.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

Gentlemen:—

I return herewith, without my approval, Resolution S. C. No. 378.

It appears by the report of the Assistant City Solicitor, Lee S. Beatty, Esq., formerly City Solicitor of the City of Allegheny, that the amount claimed to be overpaid by the various parties and which the Resolution orders to be repaid to them, are in excess of the actual amount of the overpayment as shown by the decree of Court.

In view of Mr. Beatty's recommendation, I would suggest that the Resolution be amended so as to provide for the repayment of the correct amounts as shown by the decree of Court.

You will observe that the Assistant City Solicitor is not able to state whether these parties actually paid the amounts which they claim to have paid; before making any repayment the parties should be required to produce their receipts.

I am,

Very truly yours,

GEORGE W. GUTHRIE,

Mayor.

Pittsburgh, July 14th, 1908.

A. B. Shepherd, Esq.,

Director of Public Works,

City.

Dear Sir:—

In the matter of Ordinance of Select Council No. 378, which has been referred to me for an explanation, I beg leave to reply as follows:

Shady avenue, in the former City of Allegheny, was graded, paved and curbed and the sidewalks laid thereon by virtue of the authority conferred by a single ordinance. Viewers were appointed, and among other exceptions filed was one that the City had no right to charge anything against the property owners for the construction of the sidewalks. The lower court overruled all the exceptions; but on appeal to the Superior Court the lower court was reversed in so far as the City attempted to collect from the abutting owners of property the cost of the construction of sidewalks. The opinion of the Superior Court is dated October 1, 1907, and is reported in 34 Penna. Superior Court, 327.

During the time the improvement was finished, and before the opinion of the Superior Court was handed down reversing the decree of the lower court, many of the parties owning property paid the full assessment.

The exception which was sustained was a purely technical one, that the City could not lay the sidewalks and collect from the owners of abutting property unless it proceeded in accordance with the Act of 1891, by first notifying the property owners that the sidewalks must be laid and in default thereof the City would lay the same and collect it from the properties by appropriate proceedings. In this case the City gave no notice whatever to the property owner and laid the sidewalk as part of the grading, paving and curbing of the street.

In good morals, there is no reason why these persons should not pay for the laying of the sidewalk; but the entire decree fixing the assessments against various owners of properties had to be modified in accordance with the decree of the Superior Court.

I do not know whether the parties named in the ordinance have paid the assessments or not, nor how much paid. The following gives the names of each of the parties, the amount of original assessment (which includes sidewalks), the revised assessment (which includes the cost of sidewalk and the over-payment if said parties paid in accordance with the original assessment:

Name.	Overpayment if Payment Made Under

The City Treasurer can give you the information as to which of these parties have paid their assessments and when the same were paid. It would seem that if any of the above parties paid the full amount of the original assessment that it would be fair to return the difference between the original assessment and the revised assessment, since it would not seem right that the people who were prompt in paying their assessment should be discriminated against in favor of persons who were trying to avoid the payment of the same on such purely technical grounds.

The above figures were given to me by C. S. Brown, Superintendent of the Bureau of Public Improvement.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) LEE C. BEATTY,
Asst. City Solicitor.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

Gentlemen:—

I have the honor to transmit herewith, without my approval, Resolution S. C. No. 346, directing that the Columbia Boat Club be exonerated from the payment of $765.00 for wharf rent for the year 1905, and that the said Club be exempt from any wharfage in the future in excess of $1.00 per month.

I am informed that the Columbia Boat Club is an incorporated company having a membership of over 400, who pay an initiation of $5.00 and monthly dues of 50 cents a month.

The Club maintains a clubhouse on the wharf, which it uses to some extent as a boat house, but also as a social club, with a bar for furnishing liquors to its members.

On July 1st, 1904, the Club leased a portion of the wharf from the City of Allegheny for a term of five (5) years, at a total rental of $1,375.00, payable quarterly during the term.

At No. 302 August Term, 1907, in the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County judgment for $825.00 for back rent due the City was recovered against the Club.

Some payments have been made on account of this judgment, and some money has been paid on account of the rent which has since accrued, but there is still a large amount due the City.

The effect of this resolution is to release the Club from this back rent and from liability for rent in the future in excess of $1.00 per month—a total gift to the Company of $1,018.00.

I see no reason for this benefaction to this Club. It has all the features of a social club and maintains a clubhouse on the wharf for the social accommodation of its members. Such a club should not be given the exclusive use of a portion of the public property of the City at a nominal rental. It occupies 110 feet of the wharf and is enjoying the exclusive use of that space of public property for the convenience and pleasure of its own members. If the public wharves are to be used for such purposes the beneficiaries should be required to pay the full rental value of the part occupied.

The Superintendent of the Bureau of City Property informs me that the City receives from the lessees of such landings who occupy them for wharf business—their proper use—an average of from $200.00 to $400.00 a year, according to location. When the City can realize such a sum of money from those who use the landings for the purposes for which they were designed, it is against public policy and fair dealing, and probably against law, to give up the public landings at a nominal rental to parties who desire to use them for their own personal accommodation and pleasure. I am,

Very respectfully yours,

GEO. W. GUTHRIE,

Mayor.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

Gentlemen:—

I have the honor to return herewith, without my approval, Resolution S. C. No. 395, authorizing the exoneration of water rents in favor of Thomas Marshall for $449.10.

I am informed by the Superintendent of the Bureau of Water Assessments that Thomas Marshall, during both years for which this exoneration is to be granted, appeared before him, made affidavit and was granted an exoneration for the amount claimed by him to be excessive in the assessment against him.

This present claim seems to be entirely an after thought, and is not substantiated by an affidavit and is not based on any allegation that he did not receive the use of the water for which he is charged.

In view of this I return the Resolution without my approval. I am,

BUSINESS FROM COMMON COUNCIL

C. C. No. 891.

November 9, 1908.

The Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

The owners of the property abutting on Freiheit alley, running from Sixth avenue to Oliver avenue have learned that some discussion has arisen as to the right, or duty, of the city to exact compensation for such vacation. In its present condition this alley is no thoroughfare and is not of the slightest advantage to the public, and in the view of the owners its vacation will not only be no detriment to the city at large, but by abolishing it and erecting a new building on the site the city will be largely the gainer. The ground covered by it, subject only to the right of passage, which is not exercised by the public, belongs of right to the abutting property, and in the view of the owners the city is not entitled, either in morals or in equity, to any compensation for its vacation. The owners, however, recognize that its vacation will be a distinct advantage to them, and in order to avoid any suspicion of a desire on their part to acquire property without paying for it, they authorize me to state that on the enactment of this Ordinance they will donate the sum of $25,000 to be expended during the coming winter for the relief of the destitute in the City of Pittsburgh, under the joint direction of the Pittsburgh Association for the Improvement of the Poor, the St. Vincent de Paul Society, the Society of Jewish Women, the Ladies' Relief Association of Allegheny, the Woods Run Relief Committee and the Salvation Army. This money will be placed at the disposal of a joint board, composed of a representative from each of these charitable organizations, just as soon as this Ordinance is enacted into a law.

Yours very respectfully,

GEORGE T. OLIVER.

In Common Council November 9, 1908.

MOTIONS AND RESOLUTIONS.

The Chair presented

No. 649.

Mayor's Office.

Pittsburgh, November 23, 1908.

To the Select and Common Councils of the City of Pittsburgh:

Gentlemen—I have the honor to return herewith, without my approval, Select Council No. 575, being a "resolution in favor of Thomas R. Loughrey for the payment of four years' interest from July, 1904, to July, 1908, in the sum of $3,582 on property purchased for the opening of the Wilmot street bridge, and charge the same to Appropriation No. 42."

As will appear by the accompanying opinion of the City Solicitor, this Ordinance is illegal, and for that reason I have withheld my approval. I am,

Very respectfully yours,

GEORGE W. GUTHRIE,

Mayor.

Department of Law.

Pittsburgh, November 23, 1908.

Hon. George W. Guthrie, Mayor:

Dear Sir—I have received from you Select Council No. 575, authorizing the payment to Thomas R. Loughrey of $3,582 for interest on a purchase of property made by the city for the Wilmot street bridge. I have also received your communication, stating the facts with respect to this claim, namely, that you settled with Mr. Loughrey for the purchase money of the lot, and that Mr. Loughrey made a deed to the city at the price settled on between you and himself. Your contract with Loughrey was approved by Councils, the deed made and the money paid to Mr. Loughrey, and he now makes a claim for interest for four years.

There is no principle of law that would authorize the payment of this claim. The purchase is a settled matter and the deed has been made, and there is no further legal claim on the part of Mr. Loughrey.

Yours truly,

W. B. RODGERS,
City Solicitor.
